

The monument to the bun

Address: Uritskogo str, 88/6.

Opening date: November 9, 2011.

The city of Ulyanovsk is also fabulous on the map as the birthplace of a Bun. The native of Ulyanovsk, Sergei Petrov found the evidence on place of birth of the hero. Historical data Kolobok Simbirsk (formerly Ulyanovsk region) was called kolebaniyami that is also mentioned in the dictionary Dahl.

The monument to the Bun is the distance from the center of the city will have to look for it. The bronze monument is a curly, chubby and smiling a Bun, which sits on a fabulous stone, the prototype it is a fabulous stone at a crossroads with the direction, only here the inscription reads:

"My hand would shake — faithful friend you will find;

My cheek rubs — love will find;

And a coin will leave — will be rich!"

The photo shows that hunters to real friendship, love and riches is enough to Polish cheeks and stick a bun. However, the disadvantage is that next to the monument is no longer particularly notable places or parks, so many tourists, and Ulyanovsk do not see it. But I notice that if you go to the Northern outskirts of the city or decide to visit the Park "Victory", then you will be on the way.
