

Woodlyn Park

Hobbit Motel

In New Zealand, there is the amazing Hotel Woodlyn Park, where, instead of cozy familiar to the eyes of the cottages, you will be offered to settle in the Hobbit Motel (hobbit-style houses, from the Tolkien trilogy "The Lord of the Rings"). But the mink of a hobbit this abode reminds only externally, thanks to the famous round doors. Inside the room is equipped with modern furniture and appliances. You can choose either a double or a single room. On the territory of Woodlyn Park, it is proposed to settle in the Train Motel - a reconstructed train of the 50s, Plane Motel - Bristol Freighter 50s, reconstructed under 2 numbers and The Waitanic - a patrol ship of the Second World War.
