

A still life composition featuring a quill pen, a lit candle in a brass holder, an inkwell, and a parchment scroll on a wooden surface. The scene is set against a textured, golden-brown background. The quill pen is positioned diagonally, with its tip resting on the parchment. The candle is lit, casting a warm glow. The inkwell is a small, dark, rounded container with a lid. The parchment scroll is a rectangular piece of aged paper with a mottled texture. The entire scene is set on a wooden surface with visible planks.

фотоотчёт

