Częstochowa is a medium-sized city located in the heart of the Krakow-Częstochowa Plateau, a region characterized by the landscape of the Jurassic mountains. Częstochowa is usually associated with the monastery at Jasna Góra, which is the most important Marian shrine in Poland. For most Poles, this is the main place of pilgrimage and the most important place of worship for the Virgin Mary. The icon of the Black Madonna from Częstochowa - the Queen and Patroness of Poland, crowned in 1656, is famous for her numerous miracles.

The former capital of Poland is one of the most frequently visited places in Europe. Most of Krakow's guests are fascinated by its magical atmosphere and amazing architecture. Here you can see medieval cathedrals, the Renaissance castle, Baroque churches, the Art Nouveau theater (Ar Nouveau) and many other historic buildings. However, despite the beauty and historical originality of the city, do not think that the image of Krakow is limited to its buildings and museums. Due to the variety of bars, pubs, clubs and restaurants Krakow is full of life, which is especially noticeable in the summer.

The knights of the Teutonic Order, founded in 1190 in Palestine, participated in the Crusade against Muslims and Gentiles. In the XIV century, the Teutonic Knights defeated the pagan tribe of the Prussians and moved their headquarters from Venice to Malbork, located on the Nogat River. At present it is the northern part of Poland. The consequence of their stay in the city is a red brick castle, which was built on the riverbank in 1274 and is considered the largest Gothic fortress in Europe.
