Dear Harley,

Thanks for your email! I haven't heard from you for ages.

In your email message you asked me about my family. All members of it are very supportive. So, I can tell them all my thoughts, ideas and I won't be judged. Well, I usually talk to my parents about education and plans for the future. As for me, I prefer spending my free time with family because they know me more, know my attitude for different things and I can trust them.

By the way, I want to ask you some questions. Are you going to visit it alone? How long it will be? What are you going to do there?

Sorry, I need to go now.

Write back soon!

Best wishes,

Maria

- Была бы очень благодарна, если бы Вы объяснили, как эксперты относятся к наличию запятых с defining relative clause и наоборот, отсутствию с non-defining: это пунктуация, грамматика, и то и другое, или вообще можно расслабиться.

- И последнее: russian - это spelling или пунктуация?

“As part of my project...” - разве не нужен артикль - As a part of my project? ...

, at 10% and 2% respectively. - здесь смущает "at". “At”, насколько я понимаю, употребляется при анализе столбчатой диаграммы (где есть уровни), а не круговой (где доли, сегменты).

Use at to add the number on the end of a sentence:

.....Unemployment reached its highest level in 2008, at 10%.

.....the figure for those aged over 50 was the lowest, at only 40%.

More examples for AT

...On the other hand, 30% of females were not happy with the range of activities, but the figure for unhappy males was much lower, at only 5%.

... In 1999, the proportion of people using the Internet in the USA was about 20%. The figures for Canada and Mexico were lower, at about 10% and 5% respectively. In 2005, Internet usage in both the USA and Canada rose to around 70% of the population, while the figure for Mexico reached just over 25%.

AT:

Petrol prices were particularly high in January, at £1.30 per litre.

WITH:

Petrol prices were particularly high in January, with a litre costing £1.30.

Use with to give the idea of 'having' the number:

.....Obama won the election with 52% of the vote.

However, we can use another before a plural noun in expressions with few or a number.

I'm staying for another few weeks.

We need another three chairs.

For other cases where a(n) is followed by a plural, ► 130.7.

 For my project I have found - НЕ считается ошибкой в порядке слов;

 в этом году еще принимается только лексический способ выполнить сравнение в 3-ем абзаце. Если написано There is a great difference between... / the difference between ... and ... is ... , и больше ничего, балл в ЭТОМ году НЕ снижается, такой способ принимается (в следующем году "скорее всего" только такой вариант приниматься не будет);
