Mother's Day

In many countries [kʌntriz] there's a tradition of giving gifts on special [speʃəl] days during the year. For example, in China parents give their children money on New Year's Day

They put [put] the money in small red envelopes [enviloups] called [ko:ld] “Lai-See”. Red is the color of good luck

Russians give presents to their wives, mothers and sisters on International Women's [wimənz] Day. That's on the 8th of March.

They usually give candy, chocolates or beautiful yellow flowers called [ko:ld] mimosas. People often give flowers [flauəz] to their mothers on Mother's Day

That's a special [speʃəl] day in many countries [kʌntriz], but it isn't on the same day. In most European [juərə'piən] countries [kʌntriz] it's on the second Sunday of May

But in Spain and Portugal [po:tʃugəl] it's on the first Sunday in May

The Japanese have an interesting tradition of giving presents in the middle of the year. The present is called Ochugen

And people give it on the 15th of July [dzu'lai] They usually give gifts of food or sweets to people that help them during the year

In Canada we celebrate Canada Day on July the first.
This is basically Canada's birthday and the day that united [ju'naitid] Canada as a single country

The first Canada Day was in July 1867. On July the first we celebrate, everyone has the day off work and we have festivals, parties

There's usually a parade

Read the second part of the script

We celebrate Halloween on October the thirty-first and this is a day when people of all ages [eidziz] celebrate, dress up in costumes

Children go around in their neighborhood [neibəhʊd] from door to door collecting candy and yelling “trick or treat”!

If you're at home you have candy and treats by the door (у двери) to give to everyone that comes by

They also usually carry a charity box and collect donations [də'neɪʃənz] from people as well as candy
