

My Ideal House

The project was prepared by

- ▶ I believe that the ideal home is a house that was built by yourself, because you can personally decide what shape and size it will have and control every step in its construction.

I dream that my house, with a large and spacious yard, will be in the countryside, where there will be a small forest and a pond near it.

- ▶ The house will have two floors and a terrace, where you can sit in the evening relaxing or meet the dawn with a cup of coffee under the singing of birds.

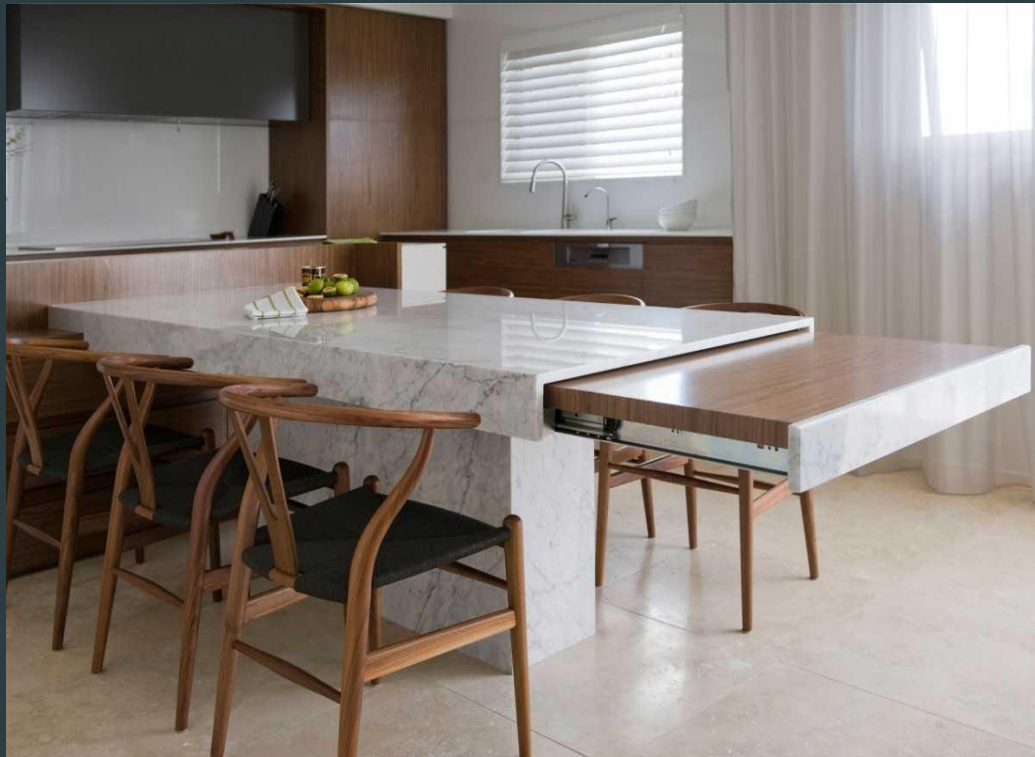

The living room will be the largest one in the house, in the center of it there will be a huge sofa with lots of cushions and a table at which you can play board games.

This room will also be equipped with a large TV, which will gather the whole family in the evening watching something. A bookshelf will also add a cozy atmosphere to this room.

▶ I would like to see a large and comfortable kitchen with beautiful brown-and-white furniture and good electric appliances for cooking. In the center of the kitchen there will be a large rectangular table with comfortable and soft chairs, in the middle of which there will always be a beautiful plate with fruit or candies

- ▶ The bathroom will also be on the first floor, it will be spacious and comfortable, and you can relax and unwind after a hard day in it.

▶ . On the first floor there will also be located a swimming pool and a billiard table for spending time actively

- ▶ All bedrooms will be on the second floor, each will be individual, but all will have the same wonderful view from the windows.

The stairs to the second floor will be brown, embossed and made of wood, the steps will be of medium width, the railing will not differ in any usual way, but it will be especially convenient.

- ▶ My bedroom will have a big bed, a warm, fluffy, gray carpet on the floor, and a garland hanging from the ceiling.

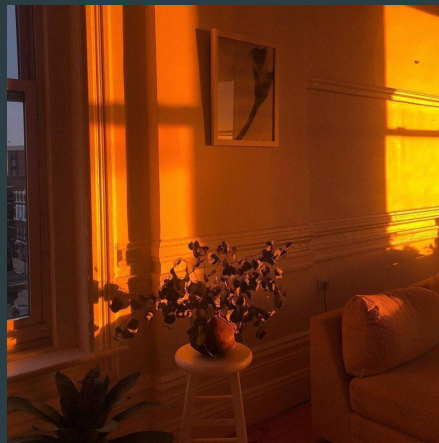

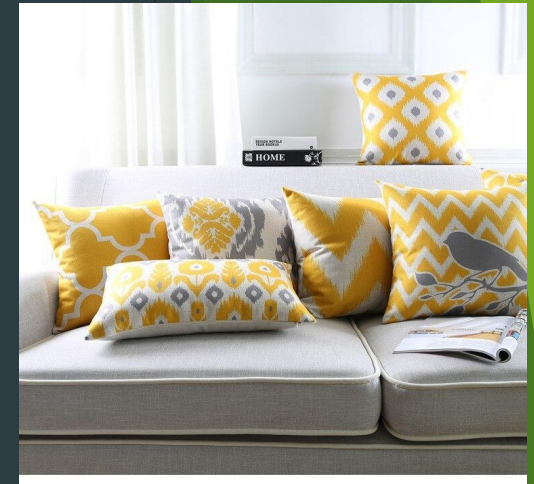

In each room you can see plants or other decorations that will make the place cozy and comfortable.

The whole interior of the house will be made in light brown, gray and white colors with bright elements (maybe it will be cushions on the couch, napkins on the table or unusual interesting paintings).

Windows in the house will play an important role; they will not be few, because sunlight will make any room more cozy and atmospheric.

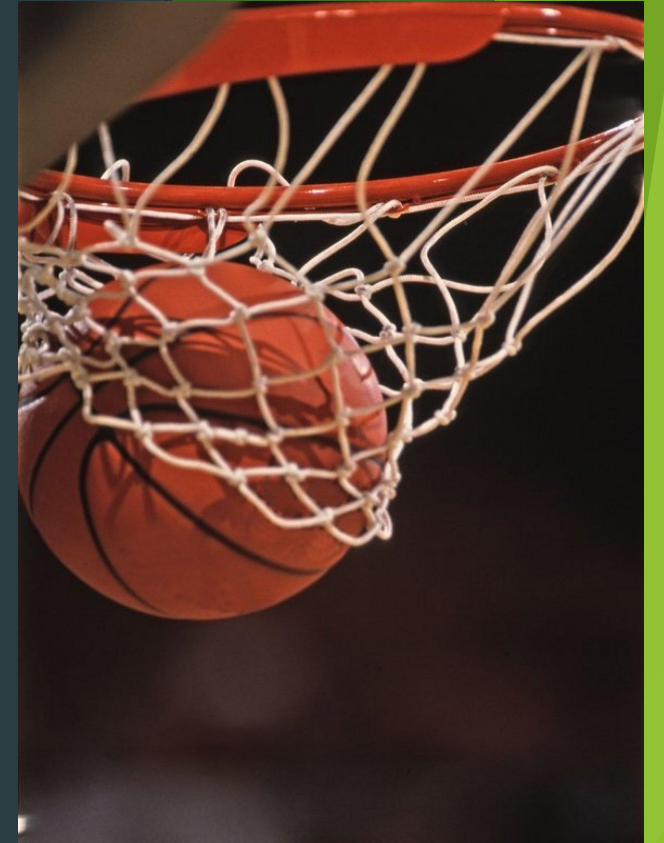

- ▶ The yard will consist of many different things, but they all suite each other perfectly. Flowers will be the main decoration in my yard, there will be bright roses and delicate daisies in flowerbeds fenced with stones in an interesting form.

- ▶ In the backyard there will be a summer pool and sunbeds, where everyone will spend summer most of the time; there will also be several gazebos with a beautiful view of nature.

- ▶ The basketball court is another addition to my backyard, it will be bright in orange and red, it will be hard not to see.

Coziness and comfort will be the main goal in my ideal home!

▶ Thank you for your attention.
