

Lecture 5

BRITISH ELECTORAL SYSTEM

PLAN

- 1. British constitution*
- 2. The party system*
- 3. British Prime Ministers*
- 4. Electoral system*

1. British constitution.

- no written constitution

British Constitution □
not a single document

BC = rules, regulations,

● Sources:

- some written down as laws agreed by Parliament;
- some written down on the basis of judgments made in court (precedents);
- some have never been written down at all.

3 main sources

- Statute of Westminster
–the most important Acts of Parliament, which regulate political system of the country and the rights and duties of British citizens.

- Common Law – is based on precedent
Common Law is guided by the motto “What is not proved directly forbidden is allowed”.

-
- Conventions – unwritten law. They regulate the relations on different levels of the society

2. The Party System.

The political party system has evolved since the 18th c.,

since the 1st half of the 19th c. has been essentially a 2-party system.

- members of just 2 parties normally occupy more than 85% of the seats in the HC.
- political parties were first formed inside Parliament and only later extended to the public.

the 18th c. 2 conflicting parties within Parliament

- Tories = ‘Catholic Irish Bandit’
- Whigs = ‘whiggamore’, a cattle driver.

the Tories = the more conservative royalists, who supported a strong monarchy

the Whigs = opponents of the Court.

Wanted to strip the monarchy of its essential powers and make it dependent upon Parliament.

- The party which holds the majority in Parliament forms the government

- Prime Minister + the Cabinet

Since the 19th c.
the 2nd largest party in Parliament presents itself as an alternative government.

The leader of the second biggest party in Parliament = ‘Leader of HM’s Opposition’.

He or she chooses a ‘Shadow Cabinet’.

The Conservative Party,
officially the Conservative
and Unionist Party
colloquially
the Tory Party
or the Tories,

HISTORY

- founded in 1834,
- one of two dominant parties in the 19th century, along with the Liberal Party.

Conservative prime ministers led governments for 57 years of the 20th century,

Winston Churchill (1940–45, 1951–55)

Margaret Thatcher (1979–90).

2010 David Cameron

In 2015 - the largest single party in the House of Commons with 330 MPs (out of 650),

David Cameron,
the leader of the Conservative Party,
Prime Minister.

TRADITIONAL OUTLOOK

- a centre-right political party

- Ideas:

□ for private property and enterprise,

□ a strong army,

□ the preservation of traditional cultural values and institutions

TRADITIONAL VOTERS:

- the richest sections of society

The Labour Party

Labour

HISTORY

- founded in 1900 from the alliance of trade unionist and intellectuals
- formed outside Parliament

- last in national government 1997-2010 under Tony Blair and Gordon Brown
- 232 seats in the 2015 general election □ the Official Opposition

 Labour

TRADITIONAL OUTLOOK

□ a centre-left political party

Historically, the party favoured

- government intervention in the economy
- the redistribution of wealth by means of fair taxation

- increased rights for workers
- a welfare state including publicly funded healthcare

From the late-1980s onwards, the party has adopted free market policies.

The party is the Conservatives' main rivals.

TRADITIONAL VOTERS

working class

+ small middle class

the Liberal Democratic Party

HISTORY

- appeared in 1877 as the Liberal Party
- descended from the Whigs, as an opposition to the Tory Party
- 1 of the 2 major parties in the UK during the 19-20th c.

The logo of the Liberal Party, which is a yellow diamond shape with a black border. Inside the diamond, the words "THE LIBERAL PARTY" are written in black, uppercase letters, stacked vertically.

THE LIBERAL PARTY

- In the middle of the 19th c. they represented the trading and manufacturing classes
- Grew weaker after WW I
- In 1988 merged with the Social Democratic Party

□ The Liberal Democrats

TRADITIONAL OUTLOOK

□ centre or slightly left of the centre in favour of

- greater unification with the EU,
- emphasis on the environment issues,
- giving more power to local government.

TRADITIONAL VOTERS

from all classes,

but more middle class

Small parties represented in Parliament

Nationalist parties

- Plaid Cymru – Party of Wales
- SNP – Scottish National Party
  - stand mostly for independence of their country

□ a few MPs

Small parties NOT represented in Parliament

- The Green Party
- The British National Party (BNP) – against immigration
- The UK Independence Party (UKIP) – wants Britain to withdraw from the EU

3. British Prime Ministers

-
- The head of the state is the monarch
  - The head of the government is the Prime Minister

‘HM Government’ governs in the name of the Queen.

By modern convention, the Prime Minister always sits in the House of Commons.

The office is not established by any constitution or law but exists only by long-established convention.

The PM's duties:

- 1) chooses the ministers who run Government departments
- 2) presides over the Cabinet (the collection of the senior Ministers)

-
- 3) informs the Queen at regular meetings of the general business of the Government
  - 4) recommends a number of appointments to the Queen:

- Church of England archbishops, bishops and deans and other Church appointments;
- senior judges, such as the Lord Chief Justice;
- Privy Counselors.

The residence of the Prime Minister is Downing St, 10 (since 1732)

Chequers, the PM's official country home

-
- in the 18th c. PMs mostly represented the Whigs,
  - in the 19th c. – the Tories
    - Conservatives.

Political parties: ■ Conservative ■ Liberal ■ Labour

PMs since WW II

1940	Winston Churchill	C
1945	Clement Attlee	L
1951	Winston Churchill	C
1955	Sir Anthony Eden	C
1957	Harold Macmillan	C
1963	Sir Alec Douglas-Home	C
1964	Harold Wilson	L

1970	Edward Heath	C
1974	Harold Wilson	L
1976	James Callaghan	L
1979	Margaret Thatcher	C
1990	John Major	C
1997	Tony Blair	L
2007	Gordon Brown	L
2010	David Cameron	C

- Upon retirement from the Commons, Prime Ministers are granted peerage which elevates them to the House of Lords

E.g.: Churchill was made a duke

● Since the 1960s life peerages have been preferred.

e.g.: Margaret Thatcher

Edward Heath, John

Major and Tony Blair did not accept peerages of any kind.

Gordon Brown - a backbencher

4. Electoral system

-
- simple majority system
in which each person casts one vote.

The electoral system

the UK is divided into constituencies ≈650 seats in the Commons, one seat on average for every 65,000 electors.

The candidate in a constituency who gains most votes becomes an MP

□ 'first-past-the-post' system.

The effects of the first past the post electoral system

Percentage of votes in the last general election.

Percentage of MPs in the House of Commons after the last general election.

All British citizens may vote, provided

- ✓ they are aged 18 and over;
- ✓ are registered;
- ✓ are not disqualified by insanity, membership of the House of Lords or by being a sentenced prisoners.

General elections

- are held every five years
- The PM chooses the date (usually the time that gives as much advantage for his party as possible).
- Then he asks the Queen to dissolve the Parliament.

- election campaigning - about 3 weeks with large-scale press, radio and TV coverage.

- Candidates may be from a political party or they may stand as an “Independent”.

Candidates eligibility:

- over 18 years of age,
- a British citizen, or citizen of a Commonwealth country or the Republic of Ireland.

- Don't have to be a member of a political party.
- pays £500 to a Returning Officer (= a person responsible for elections in a particular constituency).

- BUT! more chances for those who represent one of the 3 main British political parties or a nationalist or unionist party in Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland.

- Polling Day (usually on a Thursday

- a working day

- the polling stations are open till late.

By-elections

- when a seat in the House of Commons becomes vacant between general elections if an MP:
  - resigns from Parliament,
  - dies,
  - is made a peer,

- goes bankrupt,
- develops mental illness
- is convicted for a serious criminal offence.

By-elections can be held on any day.