BIOGRAPHY

- Jorn was born into the family of an architect in Denmark in 1918. Therefore, it is familiar with architecture since childhood. His father was a naval architect, had an engineering background and worked as a director at a local shipyard. The desire to follow his father led Jorn to the decision to also become an architect. Entering the school of architecture in Copenhagen, Jorn gets knowledge from the then-famous teachers and architects: Stein Ehler Rasmussen and Kai Fisker. The skills acquired at the school could not but reflect on the work of the future architect.
