

One person's trash is another person's treasure

Pictures

- It's very important. You help nature and don't pollute the environment. You can make interesting things for yourself, your friends and your family. You can reuse plastic containers and plastic bags in your every day life. You can go shopping with these plastic bags. And plastic containers can be good water toys.

- Many people throw litter away and don't reuse and recycle it, but some people don't throw litter. They make many unusual things from it. They make houses for birds, toys and pictures from plastic bottles. They make pictures , boxes with broken pieces of glass. They decorate houses with bottles and broken glass. People can collect litter and help nature by doing it.

- Teens collect litter in the parks ,in the streets. They enjoy making different projects and get money for their work in these projects. In Japan there are some islands and territories which are made of litter. Some people make unique things from old metal. Some people find some pieces of furniture near rubbish bins and use them in their everyday life .

- Some people who had old clothes, can make real masterpieces and other people even pay money for these extravagant things.

Thanks for attention
