

Hippie

The history of hippie subculture began in the 60-ies of the last century. U.S. representatives were called "flower children", acknowledging thus their ideology, their passion for natural decorations and floral patterns. In addition, hippies always advocated free love, and loyalty for all living things, denied the primacy of material values and opposed violence and war.

Hippies believe that:

- people should be free;
- to achieve freedom only by changing the internal state of the soul;
- internally uninhibited actions of man are determined by the desire to preserve their freedom as the greatest treasure;
- beauty and freedom are identical, and that the implementation of both — purely spiritual problem;
- all who share the above, form a spiritual community;
- spiritual community — the ideal form of a hostel;
- all that think differently are wrong.

Hippies and politics

- If under the policy to understand elections, meetings, voting and promotion, initially apolitical hippies. Living outside the "civil" society in the world, based on love, friendship and mutual assistance, hippies prefer to change the world with their creativity, including creative social.

Famous hippie

Joan Baez

- American singer and songwriter, performing music primarily in the styles of folk and country, left political activist.

John Lennon

- English rock musician, singer, poet, composer, artist, writer. One of the founders and member of the Beatles, a popular musician of the XX century . After the breakup of the Beatles began a solo career, but in 1980 was killed.

Steve Jobs

- American entrepreneur, widely recognized as the pioneer era of IT-technologies. One of the founders, Chairman of the Board of Directors and CEO of Apple. Co-founder and CEO of the Studio Pixar.

The slogans of the hippies of the 60s

- «Make love, not war» («Занимайтесь любовью, а не войной!».)
- «Off The Pig!» («Выключи свинью!») (игра слов — «свиньёй» назывался пулемет M60 «Off The Pig!» («Выключи свинью!») (игра слов — «свиньёй» назывался пулемет M60, немаловажный атрибут и символ Вьетнамской войны)
- «Give Peace A Chance» «Give Peace A Chance» («Дайте миру шанс») (название песни Джона Леннона)
- «Hell No, We Won't Go!» («Ни черта мы не уйдём!»)
- «All You Need Is Love» «All You Need Is Love!» («Всё, что тебе нужно, — это любовь!») (название песни The Beatles)

