

The Winter of Our Discontent

By John Steinbeck

Life

- Born February 27, 1902 in Salinas California
- Parents - Olive Hamilton and John Ernest Steinbeck
- Wrote for his high school newspaper and knew by age 14 he wanted to be a writer
- 1919 Enrolled at Stanford University and became interested in Biology
- 1925 Left Stanford after 6 years with no degree and moved to NY City to take a job a laborer and journalist
- 1929 Moved back to California and settled in Lake Tahoe.

Life

- 1943 - served as a World War II war correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune
- 1947- made the first of many trips to the Soviet Union
- December 20, 1968, - died in New York City on of heart disease.

Works

- 1929 – First book - Cup of Gold
- 1935 - First commercial and critical success with Tortilla Flat.
- 1936- 1939 - Wrote 3 novels devoted to labor issues
In Dubois Battle Of Mice and Men
The Grapes of Wrath
- 1943 - 1945 - Writing focus turns to the war
The Moon Is Down
Cannery Row
- 1945-1951 - Several of his novels are turned into screen plays
- 1966 - Final novel - The Winter of Our Discontent

Major works

- 16 novels, collection of short stories, 4 screen plays, 3 travel narratives, a translation and 2 published journals
- Focused on group behavior earlier and then focused on individual moral responsibility to one's self and community
- Believed that characters must be seen in relation to their environment
- Opened people's eyes to the harsh realities of life in rural America
- Wrote two War novels to encourage patriotism

Major works

- ❑ “In Dubious Battle”
- ❑ “Of Mice and Men”
- ❑ “The Grapes of Wrath”
- ❑ “East of Eden”
- ❑ “Travels with Charley”

Awards

- National Book Award, “The Grapes of Wrath” (1940)
- Pulitzer Prize for fiction, “The Grapes of Wrath” (1940)
 - King Haakon VII Liberty Cross (1946)
- Member of American Academy of Arts and Letters (1948)
- Nobel Prize for Literature for his realistic and imaginative writing, combining as it does sympathetic humor and keen social perception; (1962)
- Trustee of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library (1964)
 - United States Medal of Freedom (1964)
 - Press Medal of Freedom (1964)
 - Member of the National Arts Council (1966)
 - California Hall of Fame (2007)

Characters of the works

Steinbeck - a poet of the dispossessed

- victims of the elements, selfishness, environment and property
- defective, physically and mentally inferior characters

The Winter of Our Discontent

Type of narration

- omniscient narrator (Chapter 11part);
- Free Indirect Discourse from multiple points of view (Chapters 1,2,11,12);
- and first person narrative from a single point of view (the rest of the book).

Main characters

- Ethan Allen Hawley - a grocery clerk (the story's protagonist)
- Mary Hawley - Ethan's wife
- Allen and Ellen Hawley - his adolescent children
- Danny Taylor - Ethan's childhood friend and town drunk
- Joey Morphy - bank teller and town playboy
- Margie Young-Hunt - middle-aged seductress
- Mr. Baker - town accountant, owner of the town's bank
- Alfio Marullo - Italian immigrant owner of grocery store

The central conflict

= the internal conflict experienced by Ethan Allen Hawley, the protagonist of this novel, as he seeks to be successful in a world where seemingly the only way of gaining that success is to engage in illegal acts.

The Title

“ ... now is the winter of our discontent made glorious by the sun of York”

Richard III
(William Shakespeare)

Style peculiarities

- It only develops one character(narrator) to the full extent and shows us the world around him.
- The other characters in the story are drawn very lightly, offering a limited view of their feelings.
- One of the main stylistic features of the novel is immense reference to Shakespeare.
- The net of symbols helps the author highlight different peculiarities of characters and scenes:

• MATTIE'S RED SCARF AND RED RIBBON •

Genre peculiarities

“The winter of our discontent” is

...

... an ironic novel with complex moral and psychological problems.

... a response to the growing atmosphere of social, spiritual and moral degradation

Major themes

- Importance of Family
- Integrity
- Defining the American
Dream

“We can shoot rockets into space but we can’t cure anger or discontent”

*-- John Steinbeck
The Winter of Our Discontent*