

My future profession

• We live in the XXI century - a century of information technology, as you probably already guessed my future profession is a Programmer.

My future profession

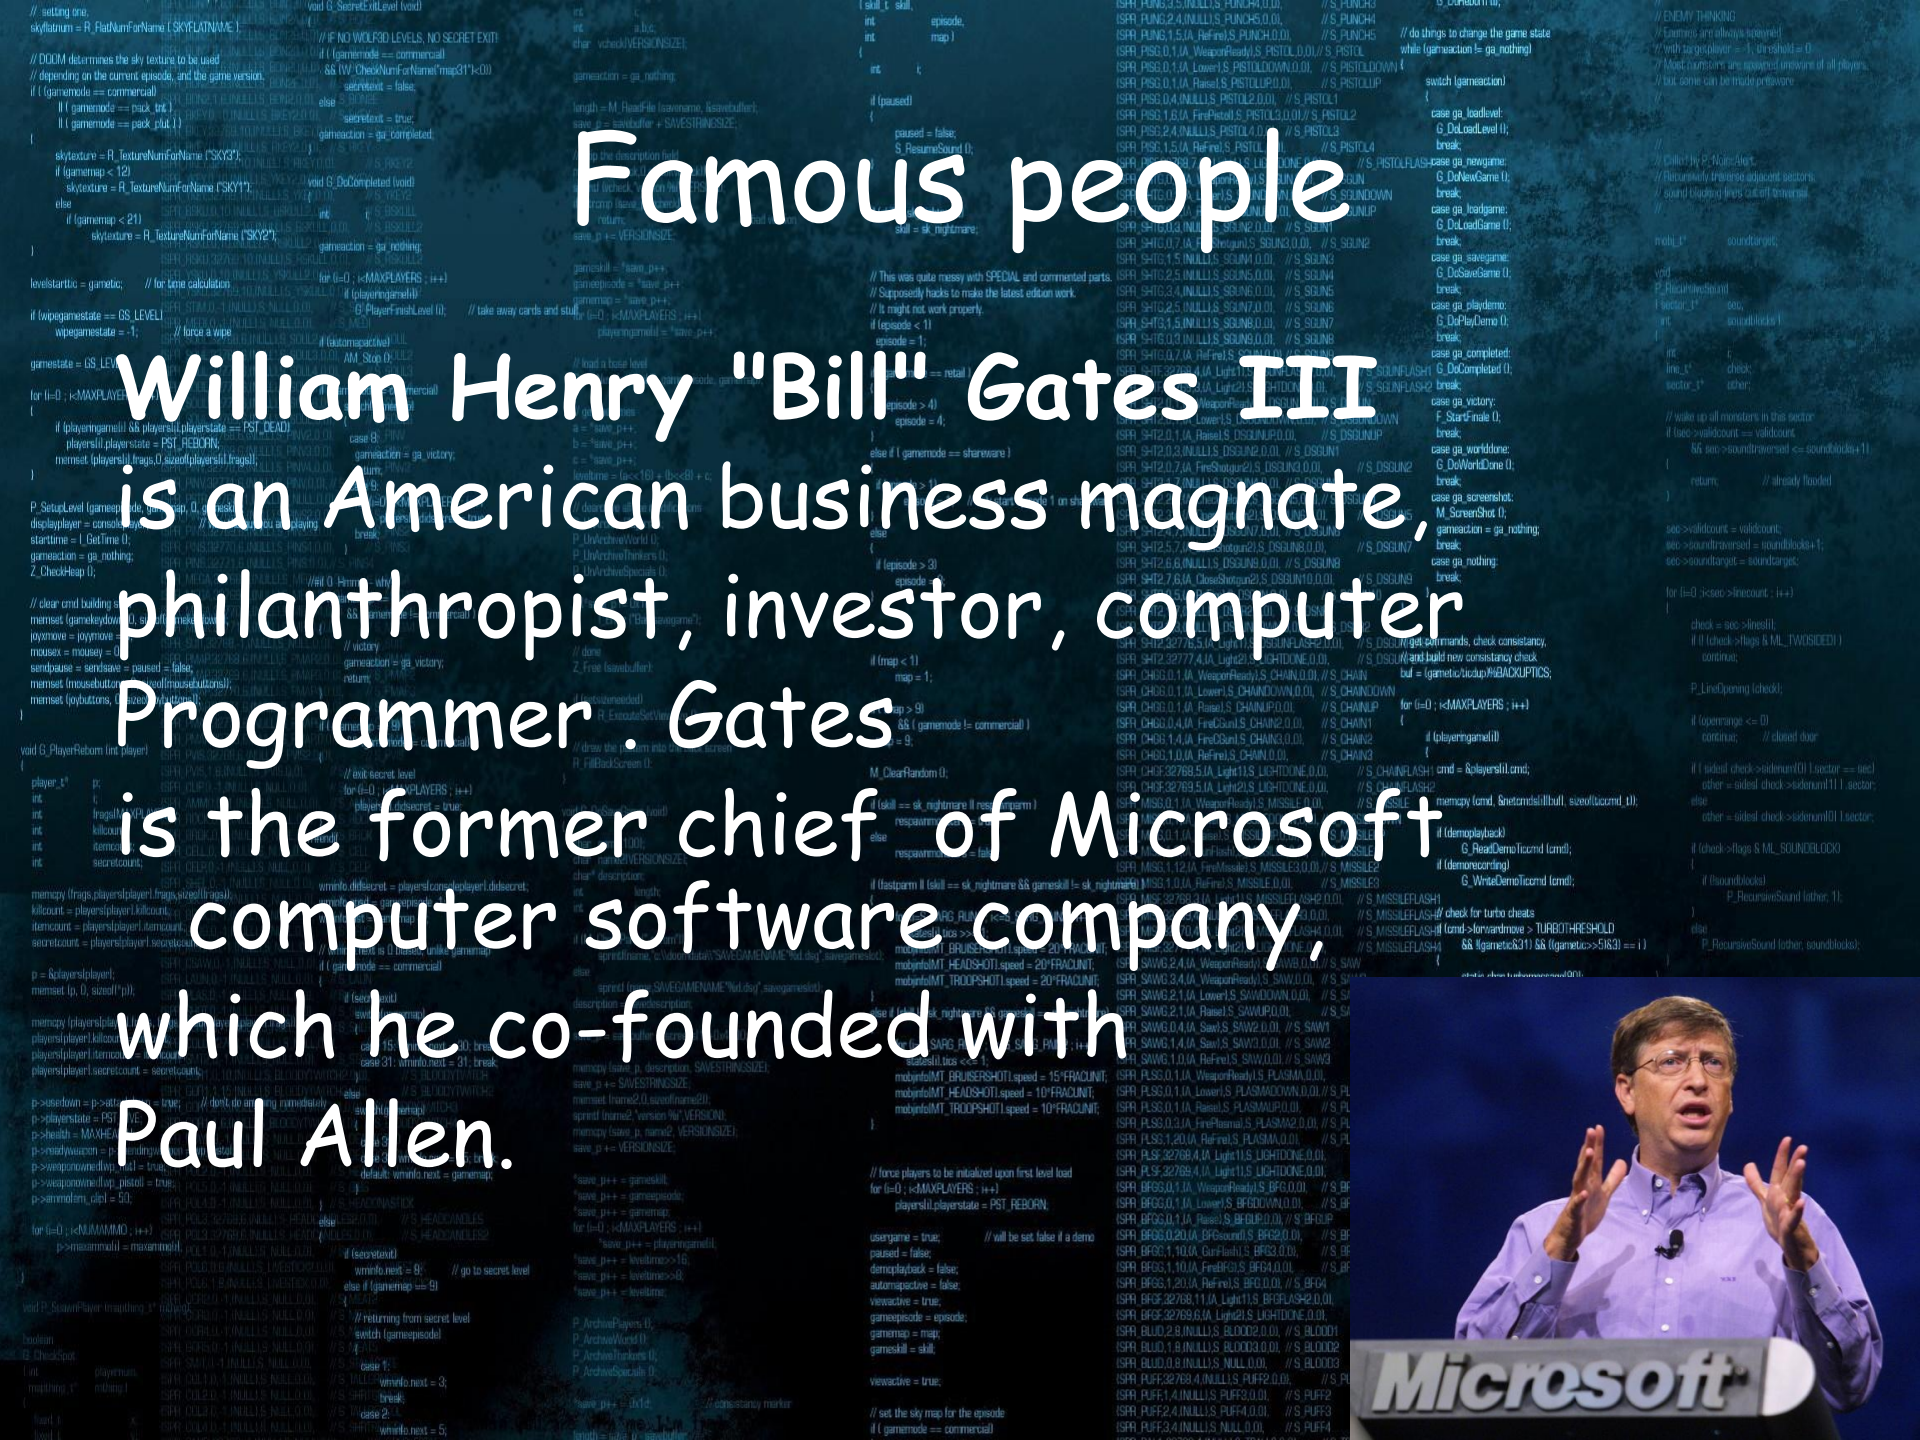

• We live in the XXI century - a century of information technology, as you probably already guessed my future profession is a Programmer.

Who is a programmer?

- Programmer professionals are involved in the development of various programmes and algorithms.
- Programmers are divided into three categories: application programming or software development. System programming, or the development of operating systems (Windows, Linux).
- Web programming or web development modules

Famous people

William Henry "Bill" Gates III

is an American business magnate, philanthropist, investor, computer

Programmer. Gates

is the former chief of Microsoft

computer software company, which he co-founded with

Paul Allen.

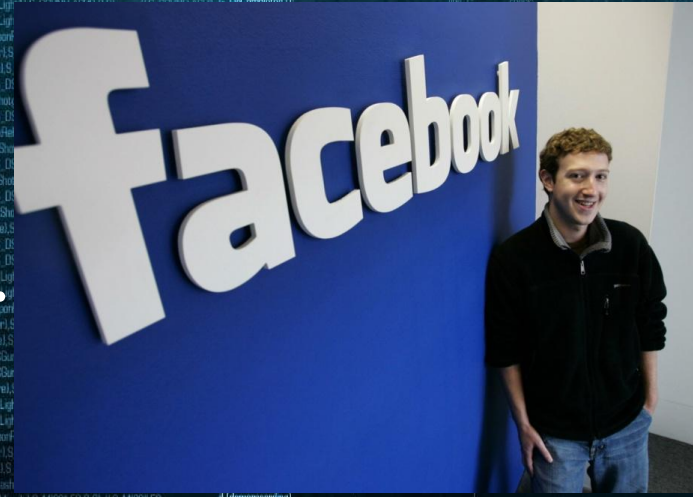

Famous people

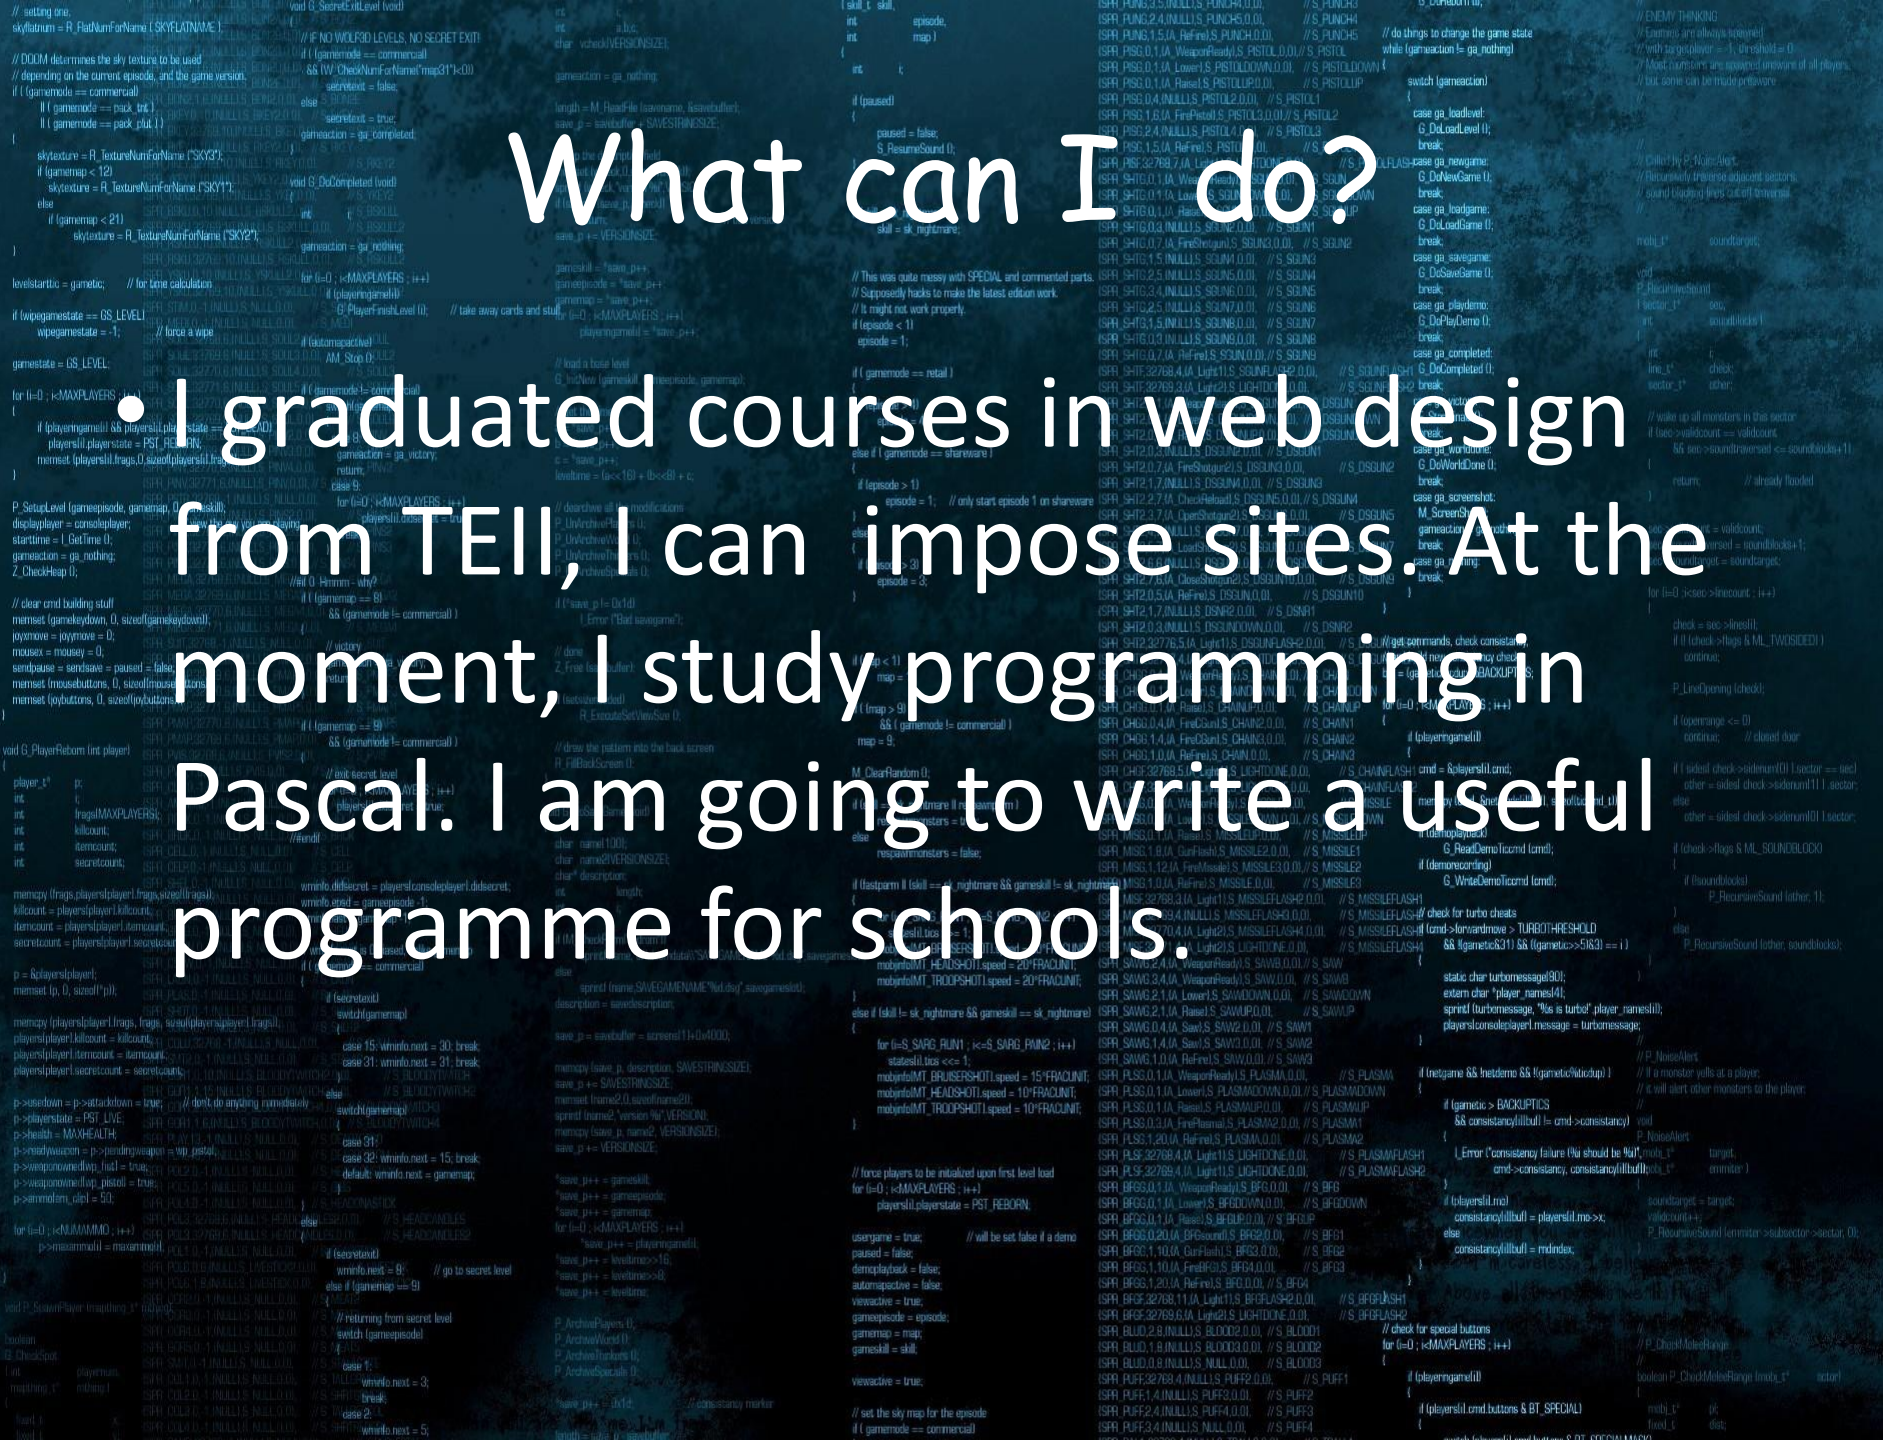

• Steven Paul "Steve" Jobs was an American inventor, who was the co-founder, chair of Apple Inc.

Famous people

- Mark Elliot Zuckerberg
- is an American computer
- and Internet programmer.
- He is best
- known as one of five
- co-founders of the social network website Facebook.

What can I do?

• I graduated courses in web design from TEL, I can impose sites. At the moment, I study programming in Pascal. I am going to write a useful programme for schools.