

Literary map of Russia

Project by student of 9 class
Kiruyakov Evgeny

Some positions from “Literary map of Russia”

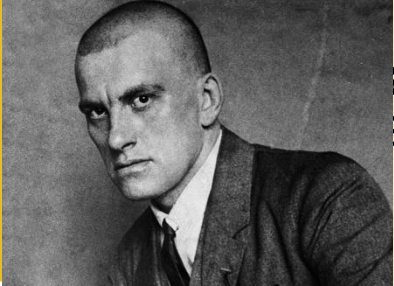

Sergey Aleksandrovich Esenin (1895-1925)

- He was born in village Konstantinovo, Ryazan Province.
- His first poems appeared in Moscow journals in 1914. After, Esenin came to Peterburg, where he met Blok, Klyuev and other poets.
- From 1918 he settled in Moscow, became one of the founders of the group of imagists.
- Poet traveled a lot around Russia and foreign countries.
- In his poetry they praise the strong and free spirit and the magical beauty of the Russian landscape.

Moscow writers

Vladimir
Mayakovsky

• Marina
Tsvetaeva

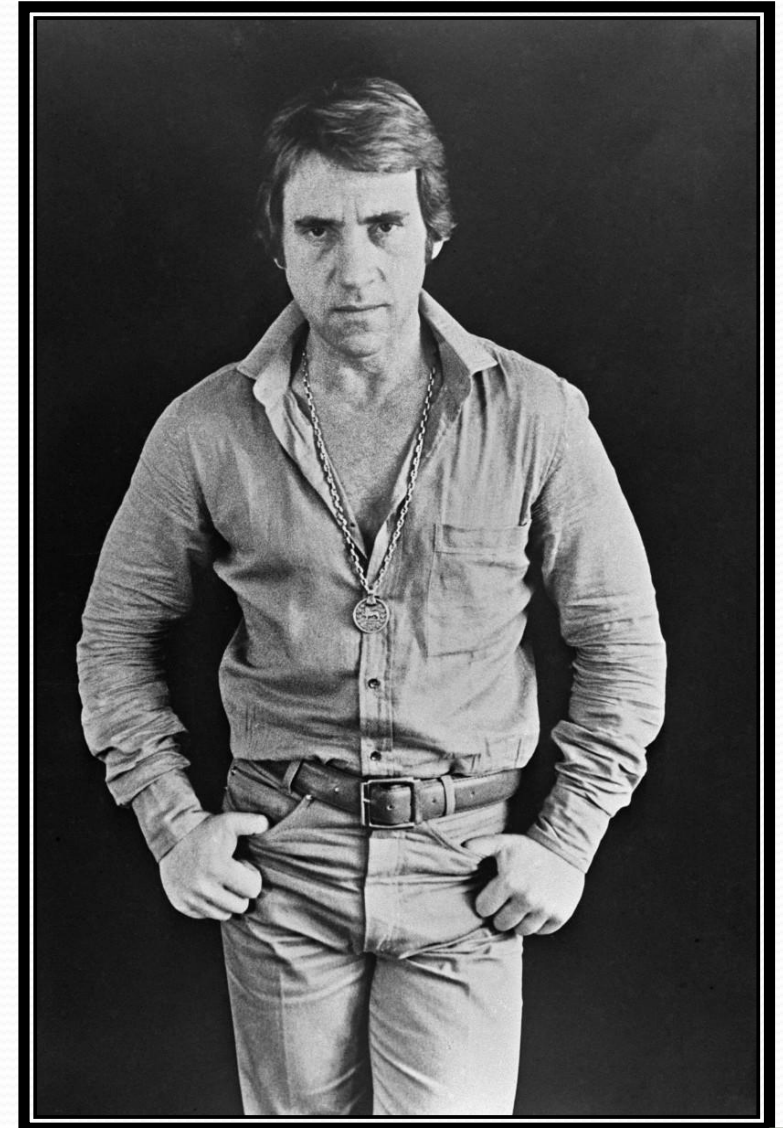

Vladimir
Sorokin

Vladimir Semenovich Vysotsky

(1938-1980)

- V. S. Vysotsky – poet, songwriter, actor.
- He began to write his first songs in the early 1960s.
- For all his life he wrote more than 200 poems, about 600 songs and a poem for children.
- Many songs were written for movies.
- The themes covered in his work are different: ballads, satirical texts, humorous lyrics, love lyrics, and military.

Gavriil Romanovich Derzhavin

- G. R. Derzhavin - Russian writer and statesman during the reign of Catherine the Great.
- Poet spent his childhood in the province near Kazan, named Sokury, and his youth in the Kazan gymnasium.
- He served as a soldier in the Preobrazhenskiy Regiment.
- Derzhavin's poems was published in 1773, and he became well-known after the publication of the ode "Felitsa".
- G.R. Derzhavin participated in the compilation of the first explanatory dictionary of the Russian language.

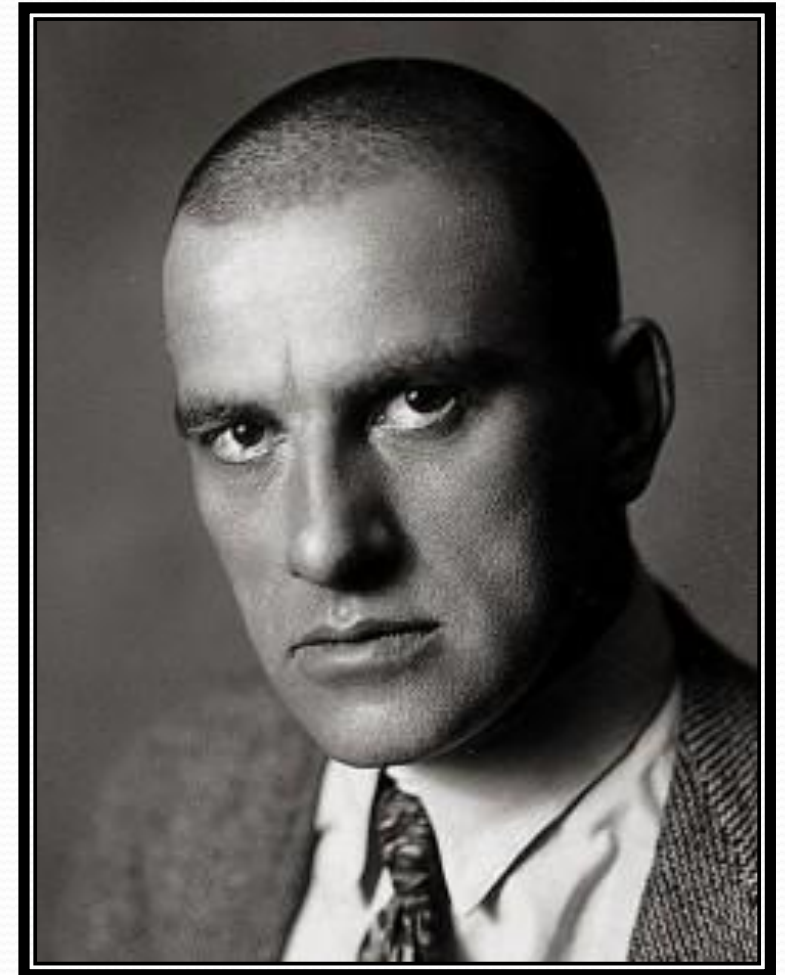

Marina Tsvetaeva

- M. Tsvetaeva was born on September 26 (October 8), 1892 in Moscow, in the family of Professor Ivan Tsvetaev.
- At eighteen, she published the first collection "Evening Album". During the civil war emigrated. She lived in Germany, in Czech Republic, in France.
- In 1928, in Paris, the last compilation of Tsvetaeva - "After Russia" was released.
- In 1939, Marina returned to the USSR. Soon her husband is shot, and her daughter is arrested and exiled.³
- After the start of Great Patriotic War, she and her son were evacuated to Elabuga, where on August 31, 1941, she committed suicide.

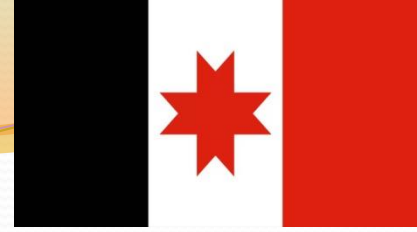

Vladimir Mayakovsky

- V. Mayakovsky was born on July 7, 1893 in a Georgian village, in 1906 he came to Moscow.
- While studying interested by literature.
- He was arrested several times.
- The first poem was published in 1912, in 1913 was published the first collection, named "I".
- After the revolution, released a famous series of campaign posters.
- Difficulties in his personal life and literary struggle led the poet to depression and suicide on April 14, 1930.

Philip Grigor'evich Kedrov (1909-1914)

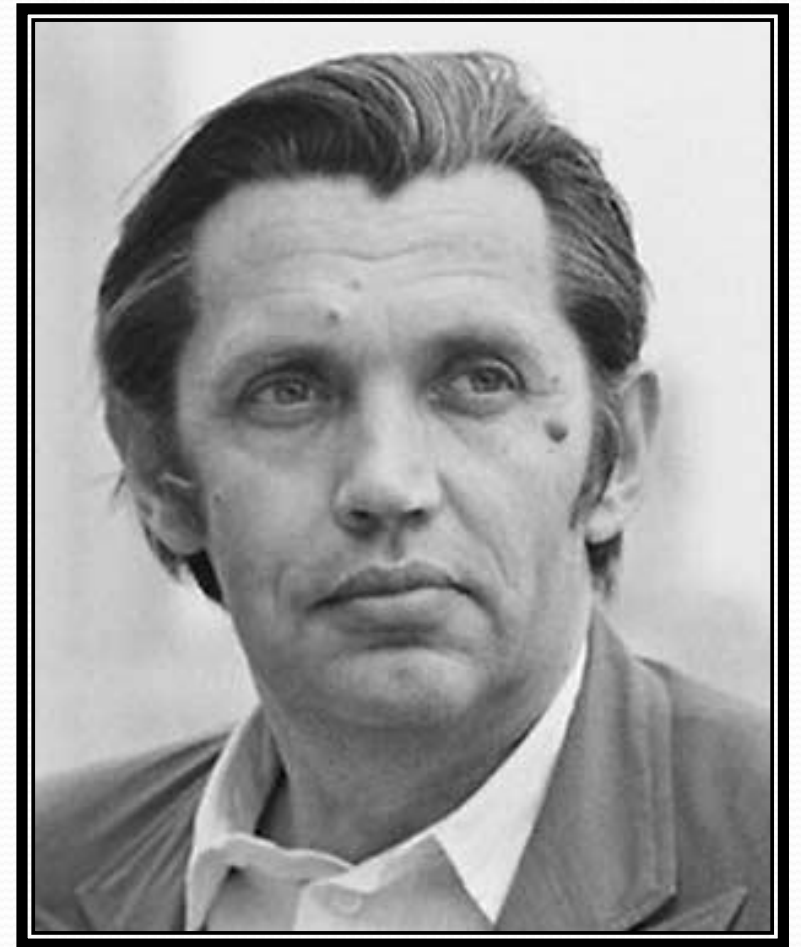

- Ph. Kedrov- Udmurt poet, teacher, hero of the USSR.
- Ph. G. Kedrov spent all his life to educational activities: he taught at school and in the agricultural technical school, took part in the creation of literary circles.
- At the early stage of his creative work, Kedrov wrote poems for children, later he chosen prose.
- The story "Kate" became an important work for the Udmurt people. There are description of villager's real life in it.

Robert Ivanovich Rozhdestvensky

- Robert Ivanovich Rozhdestvensky was born in the village, named Kosiha, Altai Territory.
- When parents went to the front Robert spent his childhood in orphanages, later often moved.
- The first collection “Flags of Spring” was published in Petrozavodsk in 1955.
- Fame and respect allowed him to do a lot to perpetuate the memory of other poets: he headed the commission on the literary heritage of Vladimir Vysotsky at the Writers' Union, helped open the Tsvetaeva house-museum in Moscow.
- Robert Rohdestvensky died in 1994.

Rimma Fyodorovna Kazakova

- Rimma Fyodorovna Kazakova was born in Sevastopol in 1932. She spent her early childhood in Belarus, her school years in Leningrad.
- For seven years she lived in Khabarovsk, worked as a lecturer, teacher, journalist.
- The first collection of poems "Let's meet in the East" was published in 1958.
- Rimma Kazakova is the author of many famous songs and numerous collections of poems.
- Since 1999, she has been the first secretary of the Writers' Union of Moscow.
- She died in 2008 at the age of 77.

Emil Arkadievich Kuni

- Emil Kuni came in Kamchatka in 1952.
- He worked at a school in the village Oktyabrsky, later, in Petropavlovsk-Kamchatsky in the nautical school.
- Member of the Great Patriotic War.
- The first poems were published in the front-line newspapers, and published in journals after the war.
- From 1964 to 1966 he headed the Kamchatka Regional Literary Association

Thank you for your attention!

Read and be cool :)

