

CORRUPTION IN KAZAKHSTAN

- Corruption is one of the most common problems in modern society. It threatens every country. This problem affects internal and external policies of the country.

- Corruption can cause other problems, such as inflation, social inequality, decline in society, etc. Corruption can occur in any country, at any time, so the source of the problem cannot be precisely determined.

- To solve corruption, the very source of the problem must be eliminated. It is necessary to check the reliability of local politicians. Monitor their behavior and strategy. The help of world organizations is also needed.
