

New South Wales, NSW

New South Wales is a state on the east coast of Australia. It borders Queensland to the north, Victoria to the south, and South Australia to the west. Its coast borders the Tasman Sea to the east. New South Wales' state capital is Sydney, which is also Australia's most populous city.

First, this area was inhabited by aboriginal tribes, who appeared in Australia about 40-60 thousand years ago.

The state was founded in January 1788 by English settlers who were brought to Australia by the First fleet. The first European settlement was Sydney.

New South Wales has a diverse and very beautiful nature:
Blue mountains, white Hyams beach, national Manga beach.
