Unfairly forgotten name in the field of accounting theory:

VASILIJ BELOV

The key hypothesis of the research is explanation of socially objectivized construction of accounting theory, which was found out for the first time at a turn of XIX and XX centuries by one of the pioneers of Russian accounting philosopher Vasiliy Belov. Belov's ideas disclosed in the articles in issues of the first Russian journal devoted to accounting and titled «Accountancy» in 1891-1898 can be considered as a harbinger of revolution in socially oriented understanding of the role of accounting.
