

THE CAUSATIVE FORM

have/get something done

A month ago
James ainted his house.

But... it was a disaster!!!

So he decided to call a professional painter.

Last Sunday,

James had/got his house ainted.

Causative Form

- have something done
- get something done

- Present Simple have
- Present Continuous am/is/are having
- Past Simple had
- Past Continuous was/were having
- Present Perfect Simple has/have had
- Present Perfect Continuous has/have been having
- Past Perfect Simple had had
- Past Perfect Continuous had been having

- Future Simple will have
- Future Continuous will be having
- Future Perfect Simple will have had
- Future Perfect Continuous will have been having
- Infinitive (to) have
- Gerund having

- Present Simple get
- Present Continuous am/is/are getting
- Past Simple got
- Past Continuous was/were getting
- Present Perfect Simple has/have got
- Present Perfect Continuous has/have been getting
- Past Perfect Simple had got
- Past Perfect Continuous had been getting

- Future Simple will get
- Future Continuous will be getting
- Future Perfect Simple will have got
- Future Perfect Continuous will have been getting
- Infinitive (to) get
- Gerund getting

They paint the windows every spring.

have the windows painted
They

.....
get the windows painted
..... every spring.
They

He is fixing the roof now.

is having the roof fixed
He

.....
is getting the roof fixed
..... now.

He installed a new game yesterday.

had a new game installed

He

.....

..... yesterday.

got a new game installed

He

He was cutting his hair yesterday morning.
was having his hair cut
He

.....

..... yesterday morning.
was getting his hair cut

He

He has made a new suit.

has had a new suit made

He

.....
has got a new suit made

.....

He

She will repair her bike.

will have her bike repaired
She

.....
will get her bike repaired
.....

She

