In my opinion, everyone should have a best friend who can support in difficult times. This person understands you perfectly, knows about you even a little more than you are.

Fortunately, my life is such a person. My friend name is Oksana.

Let's start with a description of the exterior of my sweetheart :) Oksana is very cute and cheerful. She is of medium height, a little shorter than me, because it is active and eats little, so she had a slim figure. My friend has a rounded face and slightly upturned nose. Xenia has a good sense of humor, so often smiling. Thus on her rosy cheeks appear small dimples. She has big brown eyes. In her eyes almost always felt enthusiasm and kindness. Her hair was a bit shorter than my dark blond color. :)

We have been friends since early childhood, we have a lot of common interests and hobbies. For example, we read the book of one of the genre, we love spending time together. It should also be noted that we have with Oksana are very similar

But it's not about looks, but rather in the nature.

. We are united by such qualities as kindness, compassion, honesty. These features are shown and with respect to each other. Personally, I respect the views of his friends, often listen to it.

Played a major role in our friendship and the fact that we were in the same class. That is to say, all the free time we spend together.

And also in our common interest to play an important role and medicine, for the further future we picked it up. I remember a lot of different events as sad and

I can be absolutely sure to Oksana. She is incapable of meanness, would never betray me. I think the most important thing in friendship - is to tell the truth, in any case, not cunning. Oksana also adheres to this rule, and always offers me the truth, however painful it sometimes was not. My friend shows me an error trying to correct me for the better. Of course, sometimes it is not very nice to hear, but I understand that Oksana law. That's what I appreciate her more than anything. Unlikely in my life met a people like Oksana. I am more than confident that our friendship will last a long time. At least, I'll make this all possible.

Thank you for your attention :)
