Geographical position

1) The Esil River is the main water artery of the city. Two small rivers of Sarybulak and Akbulak flow through the runaway city of Esil. The city is surrounded by small rivers with a depth of 25-30 km. Some of them are fresh, some are hardened. Basics: Tishkankol, Tanakol, Glorykol, Tazkol;

LAND BASED

Territorial landscape is characterized by flatness and flatness. Here, in my pockets, there are toxic sediments in snow and lake or sor-grass. The city is located in a fierce belt of its belt, in its dark brown, brown soils, in a flooded belt of fescue. Soil cover is not homogeneous, but diverse. The $\frac{2}{3}$ area of the city is covered Astana is located on the plains of Ishim River and partly by a wavy, waterfall plane.

CLIMATE

From the frontier to the ocean floor, here is the coldest, but in the cities where you can spend your wedding or shirote (Uralsk, Voronezh). Leto here is heat and shrinkage, and, unfortunately, this is not the case, most of the atmospheric precipitations fall out during the heat season (April / October).

ECONOMY

The economy of the disaster creates: trade, transport and communication, construction. In the city of Astana, the second largest city of Kazakhstan is Astana. Almaty. The two-way regional product is the two cities - Alma-Ata and Astana - comprise the most part of the whole territory of Kazakhstan. Astana is also the second largest city in the country. Astana is leading the country in the pace of construction.
