

UNREAL USES OF THE PAST TENSES

UNIT 11 OF THE RECOMMENDED GRAMMAR BOOK

WISH...

- Use WISH + past simple to talk about things we would like to be different in the present/future

It's a difficult problem. I wish I knew the answer to it!

- Use WISH + past perfect to talk about things which happened/didn't happen in the past and which we now regret.

I wish I hadn't spoken to Jane like that – you know how sensitive she is.

IF ONLY...

- We sometimes use If only... instead of wish with the past simple and past perfect. This can be used by itself (If only I knew!) or with another clause.
- If only is more emphatic than wish.
- When we want to talk about things we want to happen or stop happening because they annoy us, we use wish or if only + person/thing + would + infinitive, eg. I wish the bus would come! If only he wouldn't keep whistling when I'm working!

WOULD RATHER...

- We use would rather + subject + past tense to express a preference:

I'd rather you left your dog outside – I'm allergic to animals.

- We can also use would rather + infinitive without to when there is no change of subject:

I'd rather not talk about it.

- However, we cannot use this structure when the subject changes after would rather:

I'd rather you didn't talk about it.

IT'S TIME...

- We use the past simple after It's time + subject to say that something has to be done now or in the near future.
- We can also say It's time + to + infinitive when we don't want to specify the subject:

It's time to go now.

- We sometimes use high before time for emphasis:

It's high time the government did something about unemployment.
