

Module 7b

Gas leakage

Water leakage

Injury

Crime

Fire

Power cut

Road accident

Gas leakage

Water leakage

Injury

Fire

Crime

Power cut

Road accident

Gas leakage

Water leakage

Injury

Crime

Fire

Power cut

Road accident

Gas leakage

Water leakage

Injury

Crime

Fire

Power cut

Road accident

Gas leakage

Water leakage

Injury

Fire

Crime

Power cut

Road accident

Gas leakage

Water leakage

Injury

Fire

Crime

Power cut

Road accident

Gas leakage

Water leakage

Injury

Crime

Fire

Power cut

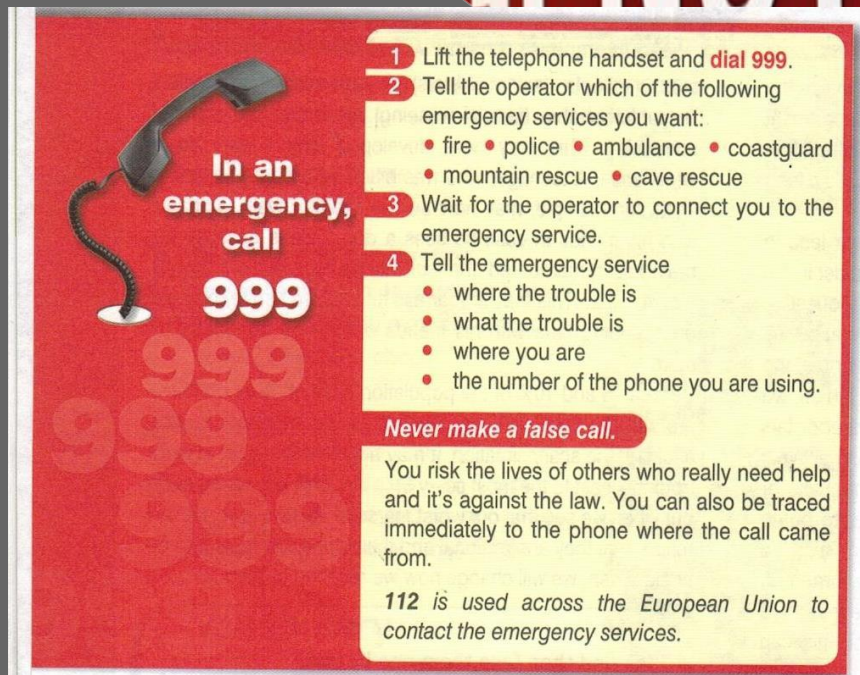

Road accident

The aims of the lesson:

- ❑ to learn more about emergency services in Russia and abroad, improve your listening and speaking skills,
- ❑ enrich your vocabulary, learn to work with different types of media resources present the most important details of the given information,
- ❑ cooperate
- ❑ speak in public

«V»	«+»	«-»	«?»
You should put a tick if you knew this fact before. (то, что вы читаете, соответствует тому, что вы знаете или думали, что знаете)	New information (то, что вы читаете является для вас новым)	Thought differently (то, что вы читаете противоречит тому, что вы уже знали или думали, что знаете)	Don't understand, have questions (то, что вы читаете, непонятно, или вы хотели бы получить более подробные сведения по данному вопросу)

In an emergency, call 999

- 1 Lift the telephone handset and dial 999.
- 2 Tell the operator which of the following emergency services you want:
 - fire • police • ambulance • coastguard
 - mountain rescue • cave rescue
- 3 Wait for the operator to connect you to the emergency service.
- 4 Tell the emergency service
 - where the trouble is
 - what the trouble is
 - where you are
 - the number of the phone you are using.

Never make a false call.

You risk the lives of others who really need help and it's against the law. You can also be traced immediately to the phone where the call came from.

112 is used across the European Union to contact the emergency services.

Fire Department:

fire fighter fire engine house on fire burn fire alarm system

Police:

crime detective police officer robber coroner

Ambulance:

doctor nurse surgeon injection hospital

Public Utilities:

plumber mechanic engineer electrician
gas leakage

Argument	Yes. Why?	No. Why?
1.An engineer's help is required.
2.A pedestrian was knocked down by a car.
3.Other people didn't suffer.
4.The injured man called the Emergency service by himself.
5.The accident took place outside the town.
6.The emergency service car was not available at the moment.
7. The operator found out the name of the calling person.

Our services

Connecting to and using our gas and electricity networks. We have a range of services for our customers:

Domestic and commercial gas connections

Industrial gas connections

Electricity transmission connections

More services

Our company

How we operate the energy systems in the UK:

About electricity

About Gas

In your area

Find out about our projects and roadworks in your area:

Working with communities

Our projects in your area

Street works

Industry information

Operational, commercial and regulatory information, past, present and future:

More information

Safety and emergencies

Power cuts

If you have an electricity power cut or local cable emergency, you need to contact your local network operator

View the map of distribution areas

More on electricity safety

For electricity emergencies call 0800 40 40 90

Gas emergency

If you smell gas then call free on

0800 111 999

For general gas enquiries call 0845 835 1111

More on gas safety

- Is there an emergency service in the UK that you can call if you've got problems with electricity, gas, the central heating and the running water in the house?
- Is there a state gas or electricity emergency service in the UK? Or are there only private companies in charge of these cases?
- Do they work all day long?

S - satisfied

A - awful

F - fantastic

E - enthusiastic

Thank you!

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY

RUN LIKE HELL !