Notes In Russian with English summary. 7 refs.

Abstract Exploration and production drilling activity in the licensed area of Kandym group of fields is increasing rapidly, 3D seismic works has already been done. The ideas and theories about the fields' geological structure of the whole region change with a level of knowledge and amount of materials about this area. The traditional understanding of fields simplified models like plicative plane structures with a tilted GWC stay in the past. The article is aimed to show that contemporary research and the active additional exploration of already studied regions can lead to the geological structure rethinking and discoveries of totally new structures and fields.
