

GRAMMAR REVIEW – PAST CONTINUOUS

AT THE MUSEUM

by Herber

WHAT WERE THEY DOING WHEN THEY WERE PAINTED?

What was he doing?

He was riding a horse

What was she doing?

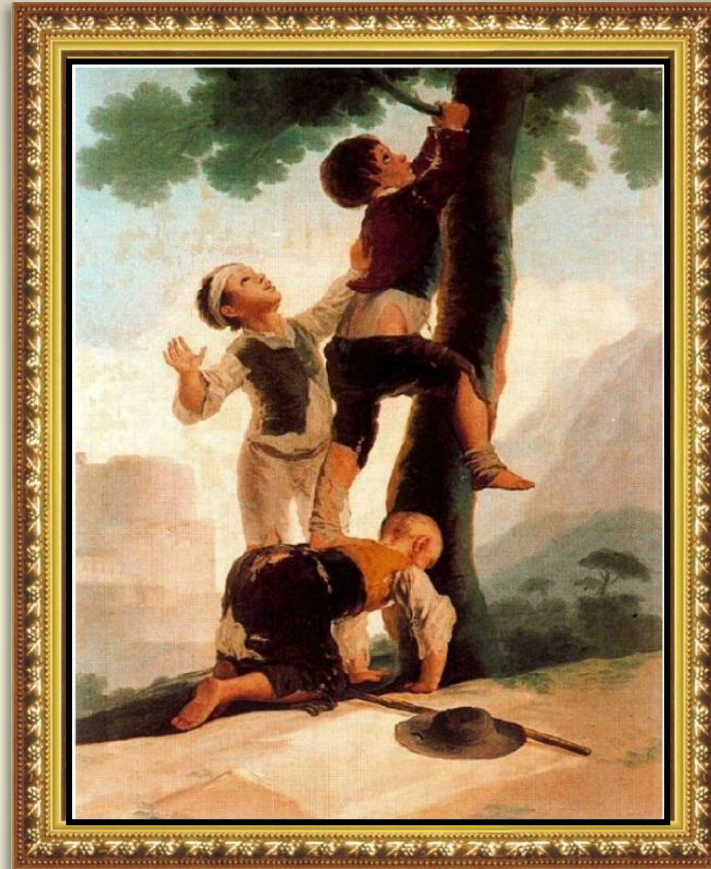

She was cooking

What were they doing?

They were eating fruit

What was he doing?

He was climbing a tree

What were they doing?

They were fighting

What was she doing?

She was dancing

What were they doing?

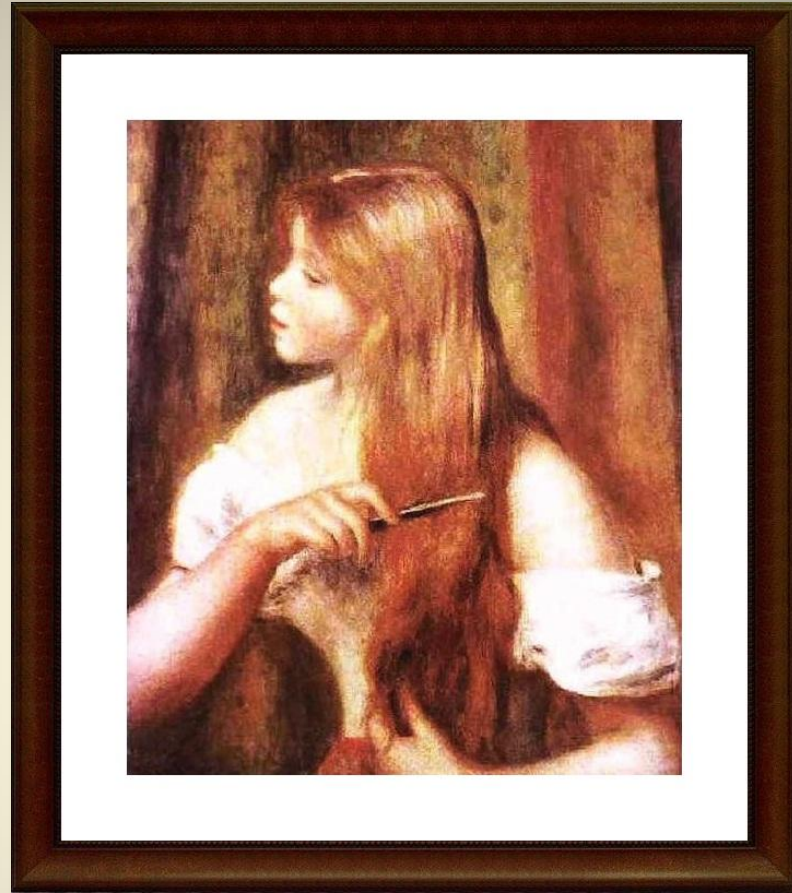

They were sleeping

What was he doing?

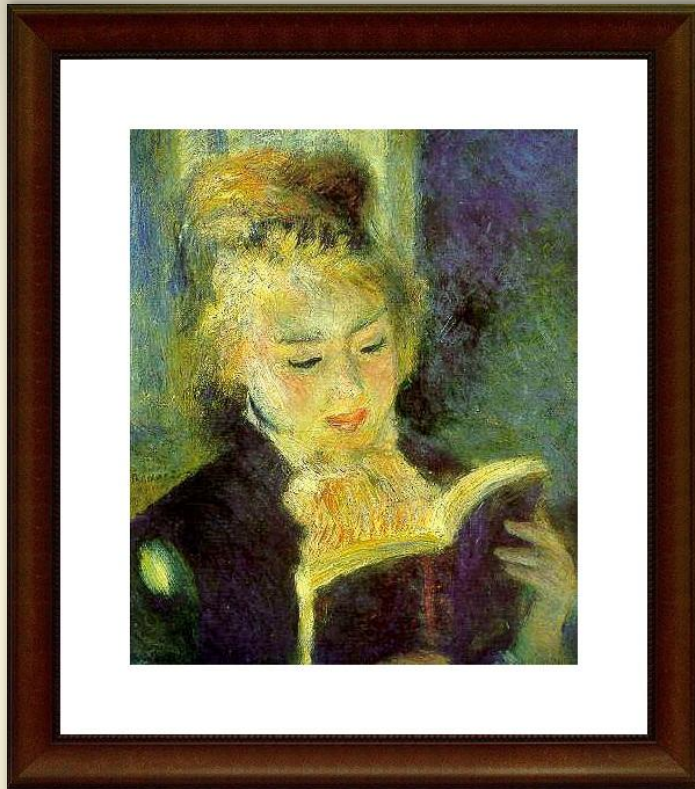

He was playing the guitar

What was she doing?

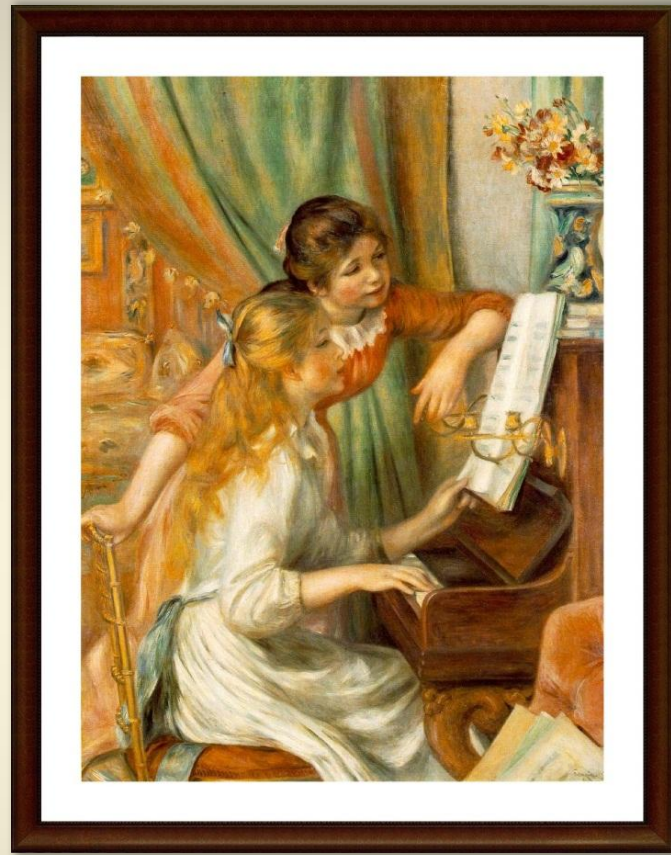

She was combing her hair

What was she doing?

She was reading a book

What was she doing?

She was playing the piano

What were they doing?

They were playing cards

What were they doing?

They were washing the clothes

What were they doing?

They were feeding the ducks

What were they doing?

They were playing

What was she doing?

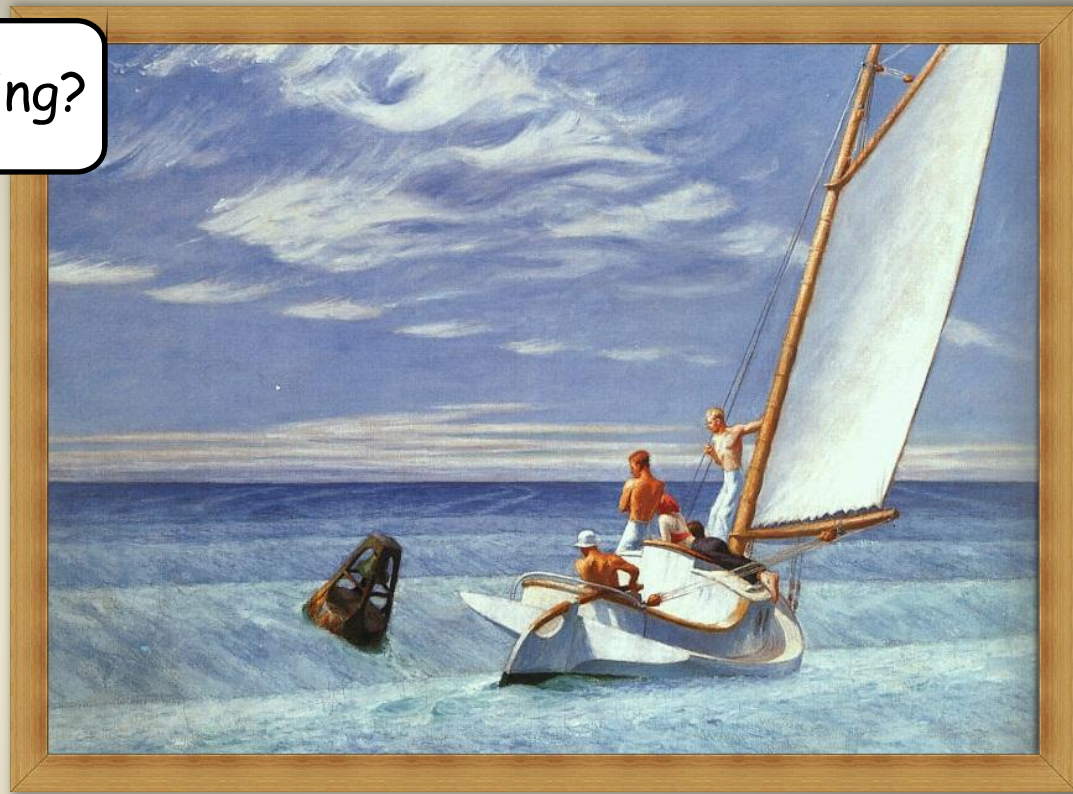

She was writing

What were they doing?

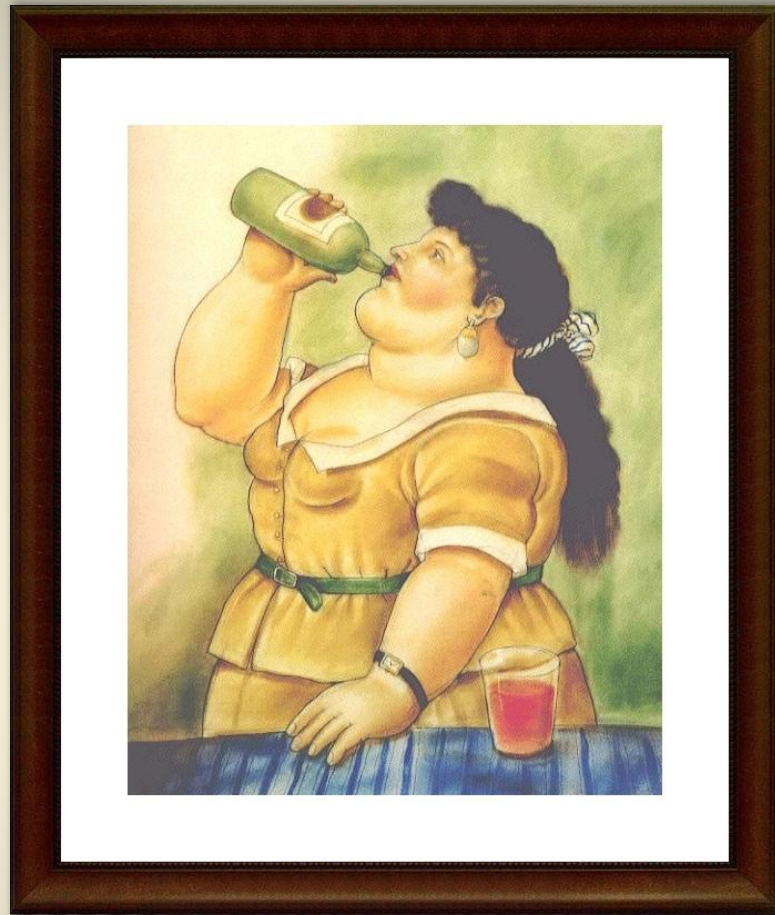

They were running

What were they doing?

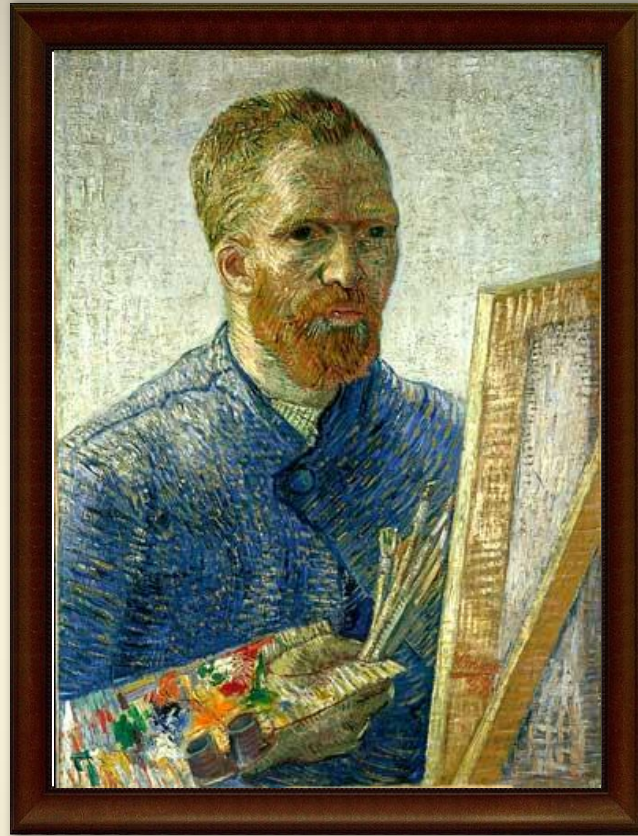

They were sailing

What was she doing?

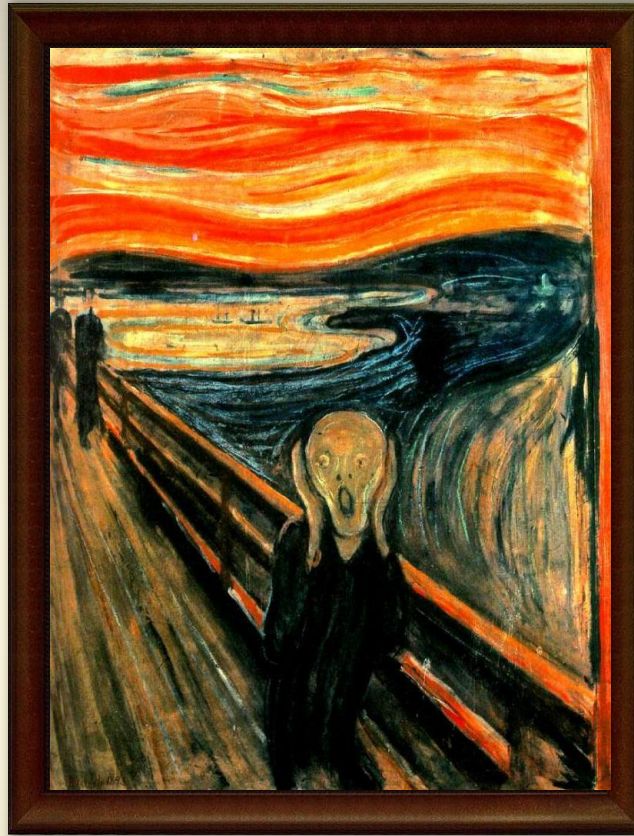

She was drinking

What was he doing?

He was painting

What was he doing?

He was shouting

What was he doing?

He was escaping
