

Facts about Russia and Russians

Merzlyakov Danil VM-11

Content:

- facts about Russia
- facts about Russians
- a little bit of emoticons

Russia is rich in its secrets. For example, there are more than 15 cities that are hidden from everyone, because they are not on maps, or on road signs, or anywhere else, and, of course, foreigners are strictly forbidden to enter there.

Russia has the largest, most dense and almost wild forest in the world – the Siberian taiga, half of which has not even been developed by man.

the deepest metro in the world is located in the cultural capital of the Russian Federation – Saint Petersburg, and its depth is as much as 100 meters.

one of the oldest cities in the world where people still live is located in Russia – this is the Dagestani city of Derbent.

Matryoshka has Japanese roots, but it was in Russia that it became a cult Russians don't trust cheap things.

In Russia, historically, Russians prefer to make decisions collectively, constantly consult and give advice

The Russians don't throw anything away.
Never.

Russians drink tea with a centimeter of sugar
at the bottom of the Cup.

Russian Russians eat more fast food than Westerners, but Russians are still healthier

Russians spoil their children and then expect them to magically start behaving responsibly at 18.

Sushi is more popular in Russia than in Japan.

Russia is practically a military state, because this country ranks 2nd after China in terms of the number of military personnel

All Russians abuse emoticons

