

Hello! I am Harry Potter! Help our team to win Malfoy's team and get the prize. Ride the hippogriff!

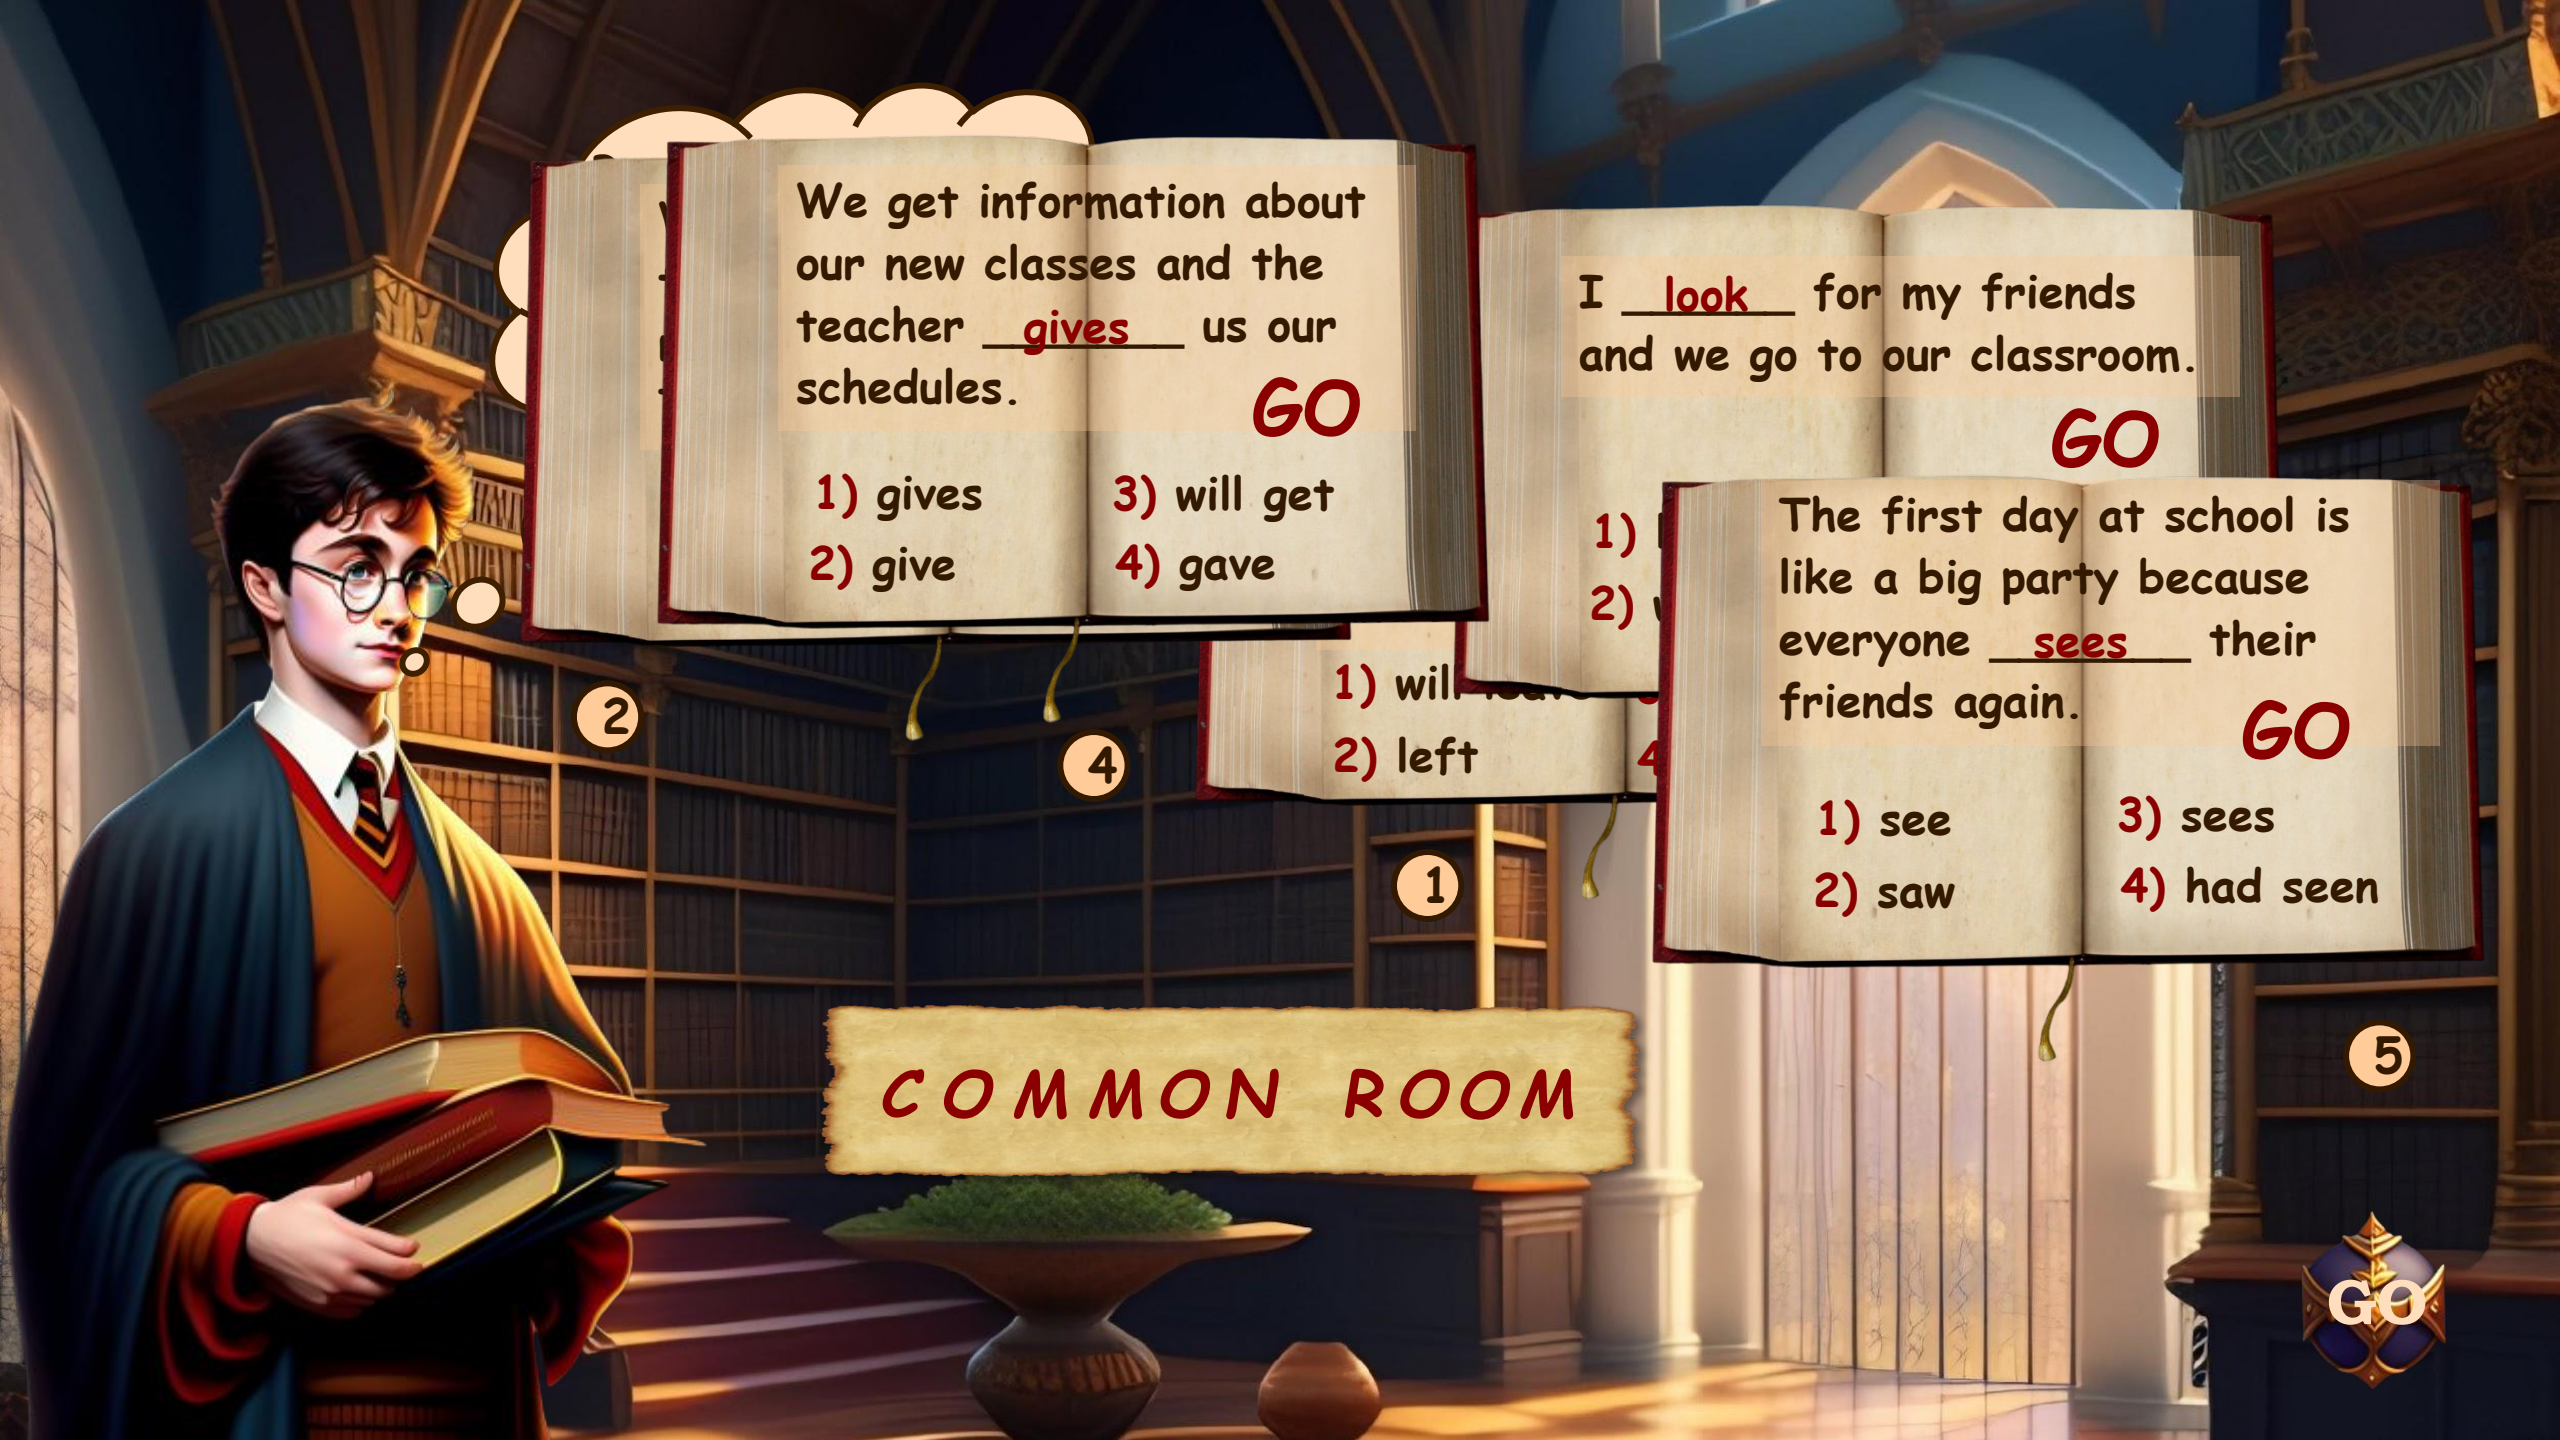

A vibrant illustration of Harry Potter standing in the Great Hall of Hogwarts. He is wearing his iconic red and gold Gryffindor robes over a dark green sweater and a striped tie. The hall is filled with tall, arched windows that let in bright sunlight, creating a warm and magical atmosphere. Several colorful owls are perched on the ornate columns and pedestals throughout the room. In the background, two small figures in blue robes are visible near the entrance. A thought bubble originates from Harry, containing text about clicking on the owls.

What clothes do people wear
in spring?

How many birds
can you see?

Why do people
like spring?

Let's read about spring! First listen to difficult words.

Everybody has their own favourite season. Still, many people all over the world love spring most of all. Many years ago Roman people celebrated New Year in spring. They believed that spring meant a new life. In spring people put on raincoats and take umbrellas to spend time outdoors. In March snow is melting. In April flowers and plants start to grow. In May you can hear thunderstorm and see lightning. Nature is awakening from its long white sleep.

A digital illustration of Harry Potter standing in a grand, dimly lit library. He is wearing his signature round glasses, a white shirt, a striped tie, and a dark blue robe with a red velvet collar. He is looking towards the right. The library features high arched windows with intricate tracery, through which bright sunlight streams, casting long, warm rays across the floor. Bookshelves filled with books line the walls. A large, ornate fireplace with a golden mantel is visible on the right, with a small fire burning within. A hanging lantern with a warm glow is positioned above the fireplace. A thought bubble originates from Harry's head, containing text.

It's impossible to get bored in London.
If you like to listen to jazz musicians, you can hear some of the best ones at Ronnie Scott's Club in Fifth Street. For ballet, go to the Sadler's wells Theatre in Rosebery Avenue or to the Royal Opera House.
To get cheap tickets, you should buy them
an hour or two before the performance begins.

London's famous red buses and the underground called The Tube are already a cultural experience. Still, if you don't want to use London buses or underground, you may try London taxis called black cabs. The drivers are usually friendly and helpful and they know London very well indeed. You can also take a boat trip to Hampton Court.

London is not a cheap city, but it doesn't mean you will have to spend much money on food there. There are a lot of fish and chips shops in London, where the meals are delicious and inexpensive. A lot of Londoners and visitors to the city love pies and delicious chocolate cakes from local bakeries. In London you can also find takeaways and pubs.

London is a very old city. It grew up around the first point where the Roman invaders found the Thames narrow enough to build a bridge. They founded a Celtic settlement then known as Londinium and later they turned it into a large port and important trading centre with a long wall of stone and brick. London grew and became a great city we can see today.

My younger sisters, Jenny and June, are (A)_____ twins. Although they are very similar to each other in many ways, they are (B)_____ in other ways. They agree on many things: for example, they are both fond of animals.

When they first went to school, Mum and Dad insisted on them being put to different classes. Jenny is now good at gymnastics and art but June is (C)_____ at anything (D)_____.

June knows a lot about history and geography but is not interested in sport. Her teachers say Jenny is probably going to succeed at something (E)_____ like painting — and June will probably end up doing some kind of research work.

Let's open the treasure chest & do the last task!

Great! We have

destination earlier than Malfoy's team!
