The best of both worlds?

- Convertible bonds are fixed-income instruments that pay a coupon and can be redeemed at a predetermined price at maturity
- Prior to maturity, the investor may exchange a convertible bond for a predetermined number of shares
- When the stock markets are performing well, the convertible bond will behave like an equity share, and the probability of conversion will increase
- When the stock markets are performing badly, the convertible bond will behave like a straight bond, and the probability of conversion will fall

Excellent, 24slides never fails to over deliver. I needed some critical slides to share with a VC and partners, and 24slides helped make sense of all in terms of content per slide and design; both helped make the story flow.

THANK YOU

Empowering Talent In Emerging Markets

Unlike traditional outsourcing, we want to provide extraordinary to our customers by investing our profits into the design talent in Indonesia.

Whether it's by educating our employees with our in house academy or by simply providing an incredible work environment with in-house gym, full health care, nutritional food and frequent social activities, we're fully committed to empowering talents in emerging markets.

We're leaders in redefining the traditional approach of outsourcing.
